

Predict 600 Million Deficit In U.S. Funds

Additional VA Funds Would Not Raise It

Washington, April 14—(AP)—An off-the-cuff remark by President Truman today suddenly doubled his $600,000,000 estimate of this year's deficit—but aides hastily got out a statement correcting him.

A news conference question started it. A reporter referred to Mr. Truman's request to Congress Monday for an additional $595,890,000 in veterans' funds this fiscal year. Would it "increase the prospective deficit by that much?"

Certainly it will, Mr. Truman replied.

Conflicting Stories

This was in conflict with what the administration has been saying. Only yesterday Secretary of the Treasury Snyder had reiterated that the deficit for the fiscal year ending June 30 would be the $600,000,000 that Mr. Truman forecast in his January budget message.

Less than three hours after the news conference, a statement was made public by the White House "clarifying the effect" of the supplemental veterans' cost.

This statement said that veterans costs not foreseen in the January budget were involved. But other expenses were running lower, it added, and the net effect was to leave the deficit right where Mr. Truman had put it originally.

Expenditures Lower

Expenditures for European recovery and for stockpiling strategic war materials in this country "are a somewhat lower rate than previously estimated," the statement said.

"But on the other hand expenditures for veterans' programs and (farm crop) price support are running at a higher rate. "These differences, however, almost offset each other."

The White House statement pointed out that the $595,890,000 extra for veterans included $23,193,891 already figured in the January budget estimates.

The difference of $272,696,109 will be offset by the decreases showing up in other programs, the statement observed.

Other Truman news conference developments:

1. Mr. Truman said congress should renew the government power to regulate installment payment buying. This authority expires June 30.

2. Will Not Withdraw Wallgren

The President left smoldering the Mon C. Wallgren controversy on Capitol Hill. Once more he said he does not intend to withdraw the former Washington state governor's nomination to be chairman of the national security resources board.

The nomination was pigeonholed in committee by one vote. Opponents claim the strength to block any effort to force it out of committee by a senate vote.

3. A reshuffle of American ambassadors in key world spots was indicated. Mr. Truman was asked whether he intends to change envoys to France or Belgium. He said ambassadorships are under discussion.

4. Mr. Truman declined to shed light on the question whether the Navy will be permitted to ahead next Monday with Keel laying for its projected $189,000,000 super aircraft carrier in the face of a Navy-Air Force controversy over it. The carrier could handle bombers carrying atom bombs. The Air Force contends it alone should have the long range strategic bombing job.

5. On reports that Secretary of the Army Royal and Secretary of the Navy Sullivan want to quit, Mr. Truman had the same answer: he will make an announcement when the time comes.

Wards Announces Naming Eight New Vice Presidents

Chicago, April 14—(AP)—Montgomery Ward and Company today announced it had named eight new vice presidents.

The new officers were named at a meeting of the company's executive committee.

Action was taken after four vice presidents resigned this week, following resignation of several others last summer.

The new men are:

C. A. Maxey, retail manager; C. W. Anderson, mail order manager; Morris Ginsburg, soft lines merchandise manager; J. C. Wagner, household lines and appliances manager; J. A. Webber, hardlines merchandise manager; A. R. Cahill, treasurer; E. A. Krider, comptroller; S. S. Ball, secretary.

Coulter pine cones sometimes weigh more than four pounds and measure 12 by six inches.

McNeil, Austin Reply To Gromyko's Charges

New York, April 14—(AP)—Britain's Hector McNeil dared Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko today to file charges in the United Nations against the North Atlantic treaty.

McNeil, minister of state, said he did not expect Gromyko to take such a "straight-forward" course.

Some U.N. observers said they believe the Russians have hesitated to do so because defeat of a censure motion would mean U.N. endorsement of the treaty.

Gromyko, first deputy foreign minister of the Soviet Union, took notes during McNeil's reply to the Russian's attack yesterday on the Atlantic alliance and the 12 nations that signed 10 days ago.

McNeil was the first of the delegates from the three big western powers to reply.

Applause rang through the assembly hall when McNeil finished. The Russian bloc sat silent.

Warren R. Austin, chief United States delegate, closed the western counter-attack on Gromyko with a 3,000-word speech tonight explaining the North Atlantic pact in detail. He said the treaty is not an aggressive instrument; it fits squarely into the charter, and the United States will file it for the record with the United Nations as soon as it has been ratified.

U.N. regulations call for member nations to deposit with the U.N. all treaties and agreements.

Austin said the United States believes the treaty is not an aggressive instrument; it fits squarely into the charter, and the United States will file it for the record with the United Nations as soon as it has been ratified.

ICC Experts Will Not Oppose Bell's Bid To Hike Rates

Chicago, April 14—(AP)—Experts employed by the city of Chicago announced today they would not oppose Illinois Bell Telephone company rate increases of from eight to 26 per cent in Chicago.

The report was presented to the Illinois Commerce commission by Joseph F. Grossman, special assistant to the corporation counsel. The commission has been hearing the telephone company's request for increases averaging 16 per cent throughout the state and totaling about $34,100,000 annually.

The state's attorney's office of Cook county (Chicago) announced immediately it would oppose such an increase as the city said it would allow. Walter T. Fisher, commission chairman, said the commission would depend upon its own experts before reaching any decision. He indicated no temporary relief requested by the company would be granted pending completion of the commission's study.

Catholic Educators Ousted On Charges Of Talking Heresy

Newton, Mass., April 14—(AP)—Four Catholic educators said today they were dismissed from Boston college because they had accused it of teaching heresy.

The president of the Jesuit-conducted college, the Very Rev. William I. Keeler in a statement replied that they had been told they must leave the faculty unless they remained within their own fields—philosophy and physics. He added that they had "continued to speak on matters contrary to the traditional teachings of the Catholic church, ideas leading to bigotry and intolerance."

His comment was respecting three of the group. The fourth is an instructor in German at Boston college high school.

In a statement, the four said they had advised the general of the Jesuit order that:

"At Boston college are taught both implicitly and explicitly, (1) that there may be salvation outside the Catholic church; (2) that a man may be saved without admitting the Roman Catholic church to be supreme among all churches; (3) that a man may be saved without submission to the pope."

Former Child Star Arrested For Theft

Chicago, April 14—(AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation said today Jackie Moran, 26, former movie bit player and child star, is under arrest here charged with taking a stolen automobile across state lines.

George B. McSwain, Chicago FBI chief, reported that Moran is hospitalized for treatment of a skin disease and will not be arraigned on the federal charge until his physical condition improves.

A U. S. marshal arrested Moran on a warrant from Charleston, S. C., charging that the former actor stole an automobile in Jacksonville, Fla., and took it to Charleston.

American Tribunal Sentences 19 Nazis To Prison Terms

Nuernberg, Germany, April 14—(AP)—A United States tribunal sentenced Baron Ernst Von Weizsaecker and 18 other veteran German diplomats and ministerial officials today to prison terms ranging from four to 25 years.

All were convicted of participating in war crimes perpetrated by Adolf Hitler's regime. The sentences were among the most severe imposed on Nazi middlemen—those who stood between the top planners in Berlin and the triggermen in the concentration camps.

The trial was the last in a long series of such proceedings before American courts in Germany. It ended history's first attempt to apply international law to the individuals responsible for a nation's crimes.

Weizsaecker, the most prominent defendant, was sentenced to seven years. He was found guilty of helping Hitler plot aggressive war against Czechoslovakia and of a part in the Nazi campaign of atrocities against Jews.

Each defendant will receive a reduction of sentence equal to the time he has spent in jail. This means Weizsaecker will have only three years to serve. He formerly ranked second only to the late Joachim Von Ribbentrop in the Nazi foreign office and at one time had served as German envoy to the Vatican.

High Winds, Cold And Some Snow Hit Great Lakes Area

Chicago, April 14—(AP)—A wide-spread storm swirled today into the Great Lakes region after lashing much of the upper Mississippi valley with snow, rain, and strong, destructive winds.

The disturbance, which dropped more than seven inches of wet snow on Minneapolis and St. Paul, was accompanied by a sharp drop in temperatures. Extensive damage to communications was reported in central and western Nebraska, and in parts of Iowa. Winds up to 40 miles an hour were reported.

The storm warnings were hoisted on Lakes Superior, Michigan and Huron. The weather bureau at Chicago predicted winds of 40 to 50 miles an hour over Lake Michigan tonight. Snow and rain also were predicted in the Great Lakes area late today.

The path of snowfall was about 100 miles wide, and extended northeastward from western Nebraska into northern Wisconsin. Eight inches of snow were reported at Geneva, Neb., five inches at Grand Island, and four inches near Sioux City, Iowa.

Turkey Urges U.S. To Increase Help In Mediterranean

Washington, April 14—(AP)—The United States was urged today to increase its security commitments in the Mediterranean area.

Turkish foreign minister Necmeddin Sadak, who conferred with Secretary of State Acheson Tuesday, made clear at a news conference today that he strongly hopes this country eventually will support the organization of a Mediterranean defense alliance comparable to the North Atlantic treaty recently signed here.

At the same time, British authorities were reported to have proposed that the United States increase its military aid to Greece.

While U. S. officials maintained formal silence on both developments, it was learned that the American government does not look with favor on the proposed Greek aid boost and considers that the time is not yet ripe for serious consideration of a Mediterranean treaty.

States Forces Of Liberty Winning Over Communism

Washington, April 14—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson said today the forces of liberty have "gained the initiative," but he declared gravely that the struggle between the west and Soviet communism may go on for a long time.

Without citing any immediate danger, Acheson told officials of the American Republics that leaders of nations fall in their responsibilities "if we do not dare to tell the people when they are in dire peril."

Then, in more optimistic vein, he said: "We are approaching the time when we can speak on equal terms with those who do not agree with us, not only in a spirit of friendship but with equal strength."

Northwest Cleans Up After Worst Quake Leaves 8 Dead, 62 Injured

Seattle, April 14—(AP)—The Pacific Northwest's worst earthquake left eight dead and more than 60 injured but damage estimates dropped sharply as rubble was cleared from the frightening tremor that hit the region at noon time yesterday.

An army of laborers, plumbers and electricians dug through debris and found much of the damage minor. The loss figures dwindled from wild guesses as high as $100,000,000 to Gov. Arthur B. Langlie's estimate of two to ten million. A survey by cities in the major damage area placed loss at around $6,000,000.

A few minutes less than 24 hours after the jarring jolt hit the northwest coast a second, apparently minor, tremor occurred in eastern Washington. But Dr. Eijo E. Vesonen, University of Washington seismologist, said history of northwest quakes indicated it was "extremely unlikely" another major one would occur soon.

Vesonen said a sudden shifting of the earth's surface about 90 miles southwest of Seattle probably caused yesterday's quake.

Sixty-two persons were injured badly enough to require hospitalization. Countless others were scratched and bruised.

People who stood beneath the weaving towers in downtown Seattle and Tacoma or rode it out many stories above the ground thought the cost would be higher. Not waiting for elevators, some persons dashed down as many as 27 flights of stairs to reach the street.

In hard-hit Olympia, where two died, all but a dozen downtown buildings were permitted to reopen and business was almost back to normal on capitol hill. Mayor Ernest Mallory estimated damage at "around $2,000,000."

Seattle, with two dead from heart attacks, found the damage estimates dwindling to Mayor William F. Devlin's "less than $2,000,000." The Longview-Kelso area in southwest Washington, which counted one dead at Castle Rock, said the cost would not exceed $125,000. Centralia-Chehalis also to the southwest, had one death and placed the damage at half a million.

Red Cross officials said at Tacoma, where one died, the damage would be near $1,000,000. In neighboring Puyallup the cost was placed at $250,000 to $500,000. A suicide at Tacoma may have been prompted by terror of the quake, said Coroner Paul Mellinger.

Endurance Fliers Still Flying After Breaking Record

Fullerton, Calif., April 14—(AP)—Two Fullerton Air Service workers, Bill Barris, 36, and 35-year-old Dick Reidel, equalled the endurance flight record today as they hit the 726-hour mark at 7:44 p.m. (central standard time).

The record was made Oct. 29, 1939, by Wes Carroll and Clyde Schlieper of Long Beach, Calif.

Riedel and Barris had to fly an additional hour to be officially recognized as holders of a new endurance flight record.

"This is a great day," the jubilant Reidel said as the team cruised over the Fullerton airport toward a goal of 1,000 hours.

"And it's the longest endurance record, all right," chimed in Barris. "Why, it seems like we've been up here since we were small boys."

"Great going, fellows. Nice work. Congratulations!" These were the greetings yelled up to Barris and Reidel by Carroll and Schlieper from a jeep that sped along under the plane, the "Sunkist Lady."

Boy, 2 Or 3, Found Tuesday In Gary Still Unclaimed

Gary, Ind., April 14—(AP)—A brown-eyed, brown-haired little boy, apparently about 2 or 3 years old, was found wandering around in downtown Gary Tuesday and was still unclaimed by kinfolk today.

Police said the boy told them his name was Don but he could give them no last name.

He was given shelter Tuesday night at the County Children's home.

Mrs. Rosemary Cool, superintendent of the County Welfare department children's division, placed him in a foster home yesterday.

Divorces Husband Who Put Live Eel Down Her Back

Newark, N. J., April 14—(AP)—She said her husband threatened her life with a shotgun.

Then she said he threatened to stab her.

But Mrs. Martha Giles, suing for divorce from Albert F. Giles of Barnegat, said what she minded most was when he wanted her to cook eels for dinner.

She refused, she testified before Advisory Master Herman E. Hillenbach yesterday.

But her husband retaliated, she said, by striking her on the face with a live eel and then sending it writhing down her back.

Hillenbach granted her a divorce on grounds of cruelty.

Reports Gambling Is Out Of Cicero

Chicago, April 14—(AP)—State's Attorney John S. Boyle reported today that suburban Cicero "is closed tighter than a drum" as far as gambling is concerned.

Boyle said he is satisfied with the gambling situation in Cicero, former Capone mob headquarters, and also in all of Cook county. He said his investigators could not find a single handbook in Cicero on the basis of daily investigations.

Cicero's police chief, Martin Wojciechowski, Boyle said, has been making personal checks. The chief appeared before a grand jury last week in connection with the gambling situation.

SWALLOW SHIPS OUT

Southampton, Eng., April 14—(AP)—One of spring's first swallows reached England the easy way today—first class in the liner Aquitania.

The bird flew into the lounge during the Atlantic crossing and refused to leave until the ship docked.

Says Outcome Would Be Catastrophic

Washington, April 14—(AP)—A senator's proposal to give Nationalist China $1,500,000,000 in military and economic aid was flatly opposed today by Secretary of State Acheson. He said that if this country undertook a program of such magnitude the outcome would be "catastrophic."

His opposition apparently ended once and for all Nationalist China's hopes of getting large-scale American help in its losing battle against communist forces.

Acheson outlined his views in a letter dated March 15 to Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee in answer to a request for comment on a China aid bill introduced by Senator McCarran (D-Nev.).

The secretary pointed out that despite the fact that China has gotten "over $2,000,000,000" in U. S. aid since V-J Day the military situation there has crumbled to the "point where the Chinese communists hold almost all the important areas of China from Manchuria to the Yangtze river." He said further that the red forces are capable of "eventually dominating South China" as well.

"There is no evidence," Acheson said, "that the furnishing of additional military material would alter the pattern of current developments in China."

Under the $1,500,000,000 measure McCarran proposed earlier in the year, $700,000,000 would be earmarked for military purposes, $300,000,000 for civilian relief and recovery, and $500,000,000 to be used as a stabilization fund to bolster the Chinese currency.

In exchange for this aid, McCarran suggested that China accept U. S. military direction of its armed forces, and pledge the tax revenues of its major ports as collateral for the American loan.

Acheson remarked that "these stipulations would be 'deeply resented by the Chinese people as an extreme infringement of China's sovereignty,' and would arouse 'distrust' of this country's motives in extending such help."

If this country were to furnish the military means for reversing the present war situation there, Acheson said it "would require the use of a unpredictably large American armed force in actual combat."

Such action, he added, "would represent direct United States involvement in China's fratricidal warfare and would be contrary to our traditional policy toward China and the best interests of this country."

Acheson, however, said it would be "undesirable for the United States precipitously to cease aid to areas under the control of the Chinese government which it continues to recognize."

On that score he said "consideration is being given" to disposal of the $54,000,000 which was left over from last year's China aid fund of $400,000,000. Congress today passed a bill granting President Truman authority to use this sum in non-communist areas of China. Otherwise the money would have been turned back to the U. S. treasury.

Des Moines Man Finds He's Owner Of Paved Street

Des Moines, April 14—(AP)—A Des Moines insurance man is the proud owner of a section of paved city street, laid just a year ago.

A dismayed city council discovered today that one half of a four-block section of paving is on property Lester W. Basham bought at a 1933 tax sale.

Basham's attorney said Basham could "build a fence completely around the street if he wanted to."

City Solicitor Sid Harvey observed: "There was a mistake somewhere along the line."

RATIFICATION OF ATLANTIC PACT

The North Atlantic Treaty is signed and sealed but not delivered. The pact now goes to the legislative bodies of the 12 signatory governments for approval. It is certain that the United States Senate, at least, will give the document an earnest and searching examination.

This is quite proper. The alliance is a historic step by which the United States formally cuts the last bond of its traditional isolation from Europe. The fact that we are simply accepting in principle what we have been forced to accept in fact by two European wars does not make this step any less momentous.

It is also proper that all opposition and objections should be heard. The pact however necessary, should not be entered into lightly. If the Senate does approve it, it should only be after all the members' honest misgivings are expressed and, if possible, resolved.

So far the principal objections seem to be based on the contention that the pact takes from Congress its constitutional authority to declare war and assigns it to the President or Secretary of State. The language of the agreement does not bear out that charge.

Article 5 states that if any party to the treaty is attacked, the other parties will assist it, individually and collectively, by taking such action as they consider necessary including the use of armed force. It does not automatically commit all members to declare war, as has been charged. Neither does it abridge the right of any member to take action through its normal and legal channels of government.

A grave situation can well be imagined where a large-scale attack would almost force a speedy declaration of war by this country. That is a practical matter that the Senate and the country must face. But it can be forced with the assurance that the urgency of the situation would be as apparent to the Congress as to the President or Secretary of State.

There is another practical matter which the Senate must consider. That is the matter of military aid to European members of the alliance. It is reported that some influential senators hope to confine the forthcoming hearings and debate to the language and meaning of the pact itself, and to postpone discussion of military aid till later.

That may be hard to do if the discussion departs from a theoretical plane. In Article 3 of the treaty the parties pledge themselves to "maintain and develop their individual and collective capacity to resist armed attack" through "continuous and effective self-help and mutual aid."

It is obvious that "mutual aid" in building up defenses would be a rather one-sided proposition. If the treaty is to be approved in its present form, including the language of Article 3, the Senate would almost have to discuss a specific arms program. It would not only have to decide whether this country would provide armaments. It would also need some authoritative information on requirements and purposes.

Otherwise the language of the treaty would mean little in itself. The members of a mutual defense alliance must have mutual means of defense. Without the assurance that some means would be provided, Senate approval of the alliance itself could offer only a doubtful promise of security.

How A Boss Can Butter
UP The Hired Help

By HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—How can a boss butter up the hired hands?

This is one problem that never occurred to my simple barefoot mind. But the other day I let go with a powerful piece about how the ordinary man, given a lifetime or two, could successfully butter up his boss and get a raise. Any boss.

And a fellow came right back at me—one of those strange people who hire other people for a living.

"Listen, Boyle," he said "You're living in a dead age. The problem in the industrial world today isn't how to butter up the boss to get ahead. What the boss has to worry about is how he can get ahead by buttering up his employees."

And this odd gentleman suggested that if I were an honest reporter I would immediately investigate. He said I should advise the bosses what they could do to win the warm approval of the men under them who make them look good to the men over them.

Brand New Idea

Well, for me this was a brand new idea. As a lifelong employee determined to remain one, I had never thought of a boss as a person interested in pleasing me.

I first went to work at a time when people stood in lines for jobs. And I guess that ever since then I have thought of a boss only as something you tried in a vague way to placate . . . by an effort here . . . a performance there . . . as you would a cross child. You know—anything to keep him from being loud.

But some employees aren't the kind of workaday snob I am. I asked a few what they thought a boss could do to butter them up.

And here are some of their answers: "Borrow cigarettes from them once in a while, so as to make them wonder whether he can afford them a raise."

"When the employees greet him 'Hiya, Big Boy,' the boss should come back with a heavily emphasized 'Okay, Chum.' This will leave them wondering whether he said chum or chump."

"They'll Think He's Henpecked." "Have his wife stop into the office and bawl him out in public for forgetting to do something he promised. The employees will feel better for thinking he is as henpecked as they are."

"He could have his sons or daughters drop in for pin money—and give it to them out of the petty cash box. Every employee would like to dip into the cash box, too. And he does if he can."

"Call all employees together once a year for a sandwich luncheon to hear their suggestions. Then they will forget their gripes for another year . . . and he can forget the suggestions."

Looking back over the list, I think there must be a better solution:

Perhaps the boss and the employees he wants to butter up should go together to a psychiatrist, hand in hand, and lie down together on a wide couch. There they could talk over the long question of how the Garden of Eden became a plantation.

But I don't think they will find a reason to change the basic arrangement.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Iodine Necessary
For Proper Body
FunctioningBy Edwin J. Jordan, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Iodized salt for the prevention of goiter was recommended in 1924 by the Michigan State Medical Society in co-operation with the State Board of Health. This method has stood the test of time, although more has been learned about the amount of iodine which should be included and the importance of a "stabilizer" to prevent the iodine from being lost. Recently two prominent physicians writing for the Council on Foods and Nutrition of the American Medical Association again emphasized the value of iodized salt. Iodine is needed for proper functioning of the human body. The physicians mentioned point out that iodine is as necessary to the normal functioning of the thyroid gland (the enlargement of which produces goiter) as water is to the growth of plant life.

Affects Growth

In children who live in areas in which the food or water does not contain enough iodine and who are stunted in growth for that reason, iodine and thyroid extract is of great help in restoring normal speed of growth.

Iodine also is important in other respects. It plays some part in animal and human fertility. As early as 1907 salts containing iodine were fed to Michigan sheep in order to prevent the high death rate which was occurring among the newborn lambs.

Some people have objected to the addition of iodine—in the form of sodium iodide—to salt for fear it might be dangerous. Careful studies, however, have shown that harmful effects do not occur.

In one survey involving more than 50,000 children, not a single child was found to have developed any bad effects whatever.

Note: Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

The Doctor Answers

By Edwin J. Jordan, M.D.

Question: What is the cause of so-called "rubber legs?"

Answer: This is a vague term which I presume refers to people who have unusually relaxed ligaments around the joints. Contortionists generally fall in this group and can move their limbs into peculiar positions because of the much greater motion which they have in their joints. If this is what is meant by "rubber legs," I do not know of anything that can be done to overcome it.

Elect Mrs. Canatsey
Malta Club President

Members of Malta club, Order of White Shrine of Jerusalem, held their annual meeting and covered dish luncheon Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the ladies' lounge at Masonic temple, with Mrs. E. C. Wise and Mrs. Fenton Sparger as hostesses.

Tables were decorated attractively with yellow narcissus and white candles. Easter baskets in pastel shades being at each place.

At the conclusion of the dinner, Mrs. H. A. Littler, president, conducted a business meeting. Annual reports were given and mystery pals were revealed.

Mrs. H. A. Rust, junior past worthy high priestess, was initiated into the club. Mrs. H. C. Hart, worthy high priestess, was a guest.

New officers elected at the annual meeting are Mrs. E. D. Canatsey, president; Miss Clara Magill, vice-president; Miss Fern Haigh, scribe and treasurer.

Alpha Pi Initiates
Twelve New Fledges

Alpha Pi initiation services for the twelve new pledges of Hardin Brown Business college were held Wednesday evening following a dinner in the County Fair room of the Dunlap hotel.

Before the services, Doris Souza gave a vocal selection, "Easter Parade." President Lois Sample, who was in charge of the services, gave the pledges an idea of what is expected of them and also the benefits they may derive from the sorority.

Pledges taking the vows of the sorority were Mildred Beard, Donna Boes, Mary Cosgriff, Shirley Dean, Alberta DeOrnellas, Dorothy Hudson, Louise Kelly, Tena Rust, Rose Ann Steinberg, Peggy Stubblefield, Jean Wilding and Alberta Wise.

An American Beauty rose, the sorority flower, was presented to each new member at the close of the service.

Charles Ade
Dies At Kilbourn

Chandlerville—Charles Ade, 84, died Wednesday at his home in Kilbourn.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Viola Hughes, and one brother, Harvey Ade, both of Kilbourn.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2:30 p. m. at the Kilbourn Baptist church, with the Rev. Carl Hughes officiating. Interment will be in Kilbourn cemetery.

The body is at the Lintner Funeral Home in Chandlerville and will remain there until one hour before the time of service.

Grace Methodist
Easter Services
Are Announced

A special program of Easter music will be presented by the orchestra at the Grace Methodist church school service at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning, followed by the singing of Easter hymns. The Junior Church presents an Easter film, entitled "The First Easter," which will be shown at 10:45.

There will be a vocal solo by Mary Ellen Covey and an accordion solo by Jimmy Wallace. In the morning worship service, there will be a special Easter sermon by Dr. Marston and special music as follows: Mrs. S. G. Baker and James Welch will sing "They Have Taken Away My Lord," by Ashbyrne; the choir will sing the anthem, "Christ Is Risen," by Birch; Mrs. S. G. Baker will sing "In The End of the Sabbath," by Oley Speaks and the service will close with a solo "The Lord's Prayer," by Malotte, by James Welch.

An opportunity will be given for baptism and reception of members.

Some fish can live in springs water as hot as 115 degrees Fahrenheit.

Elks Lodge Installs

The installing officer was Past District Deputy Dan Cloud. Other officers installed at this time were Ray Schanle, leading knight; Thomas Kline, loyal knight; Harry Dowland, lecturing knight; Ralph Thomson, secretary; Denham Harney, treasurer; John Larson, Tiler; Max Thompson, George Lukeman, Jr., and Edward J. Flynn, trustees; W. E. Queen, delegate to the grand lodge; and Denham Harney, alternate delegate.

Exalted Ruler Queen named the following officers: Dr. Robert Herr, inner guard; Thomas Eades, esquire; M. A. Craig, organist; and Rev. F. M. Crabtree, chaplain.

Engaged

MISS BETTY COATES

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Coates of near Lynnvillle announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Betty Coates, to Robert Dahman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wes Andell of near Winchester.

Both Miss Coates and her fiancé are graduates of Winchester High school. Miss Coates is employed as bookkeeper at the Gordon Implement company of Riggsport. Mr. Dahman is engaged in farming.

The date for the wedding has not been set.

Mrs. Doris Biggs
Will Compete In Speech Contest

To determine the final winner of its speech contest, the Jacksonville Toastmistress club met Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the County Fair room in the Dunlap hotel.

The two final contestants were Mrs. Doris Biggs and Mrs. Betty Drabant. Mrs. Biggs' topic was "On Keeping House the Hard Way," and Mrs. Drabant spoke on "The Importance of a Housewife and Mother Keeping Herself Mentally Alert." Both speakers were also asked to give short impromptu speeches following their main speech.

Miss Ruth Frum, English teacher at David Prince Junior High, Mrs. Henry Deller, a former Toastmistress, and Roy Warner, vice president of the Jacksonville Toastmistress club acted as judges. Mrs. Doris Biggs was chosen as the winner and will compete against the winners from Quincy and Springfield Toastmistress clubs Friday, April 15, at the Dunlap hotel.

The Toastmistress of the evening was Mrs. Saralee Sandberg, with Miss Isabel Cully acting as Topic Mistress. Miss Cully passed out envelopes containing pictures to the members and they were asked to give impromptu speeches, using their picture as the topic.

Plans were made for the International Toastmistress Club spring conference at the Corando hotel in St. Louis April 31 and May 1.

Delta Tri-Hi-Y
Chooses Officers

Officers were elected by Delta Tri-Hi-Y at its meeting held Wednesday evening at the Y.M.C.A. Youth Center. The new officers, whose terms will become effective at the second meeting in May, are Pat Hughes, president; Jane Wilson, vice president; Marilyn Lacey, secretary; and Evelyn McCreery, treasurer.

Presiding over the meeting, presided over by the retiring president, Betty Townsley, a potluck supper was served. The program chairman, Pat Fanning, introduced the speaker of the evening, Mrs. Marian Schaeffer of the MacMurray college faculty. Mrs. Schaeffer spoke on "Womanhood and Race Tolerance and Raising the Ideals of the American Girl."

Topnotchers Name
Officers For Year

The Topnotchers 4-H club elected officers at its meeting held at the Woodson home. The new officers are Marion Rueter, president; Gene Anne Woodson, vice-president; Charlotte Woodson, secretary-treasurer; Jessie Woods, recreational chairman; Roxie Stice, assistant; Marie Woodson, reporter; Charlotte Woodson, federation representative, and Martha Welch, alternate.

A brief business session was held and refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held April 26 at the home of Marion Rueter.

Paper On Easter Customs Heard By Thursday Club

An Easter program was presented Tuesday afternoon when the Thursday club met with Mrs. T. C. Jenkinson at her home, 824 Grove street.

Mrs. Jack Thomas, the program leader, read a paper, "Easter Festival and Customs."

The date for Easter, called "the queen of festivals," was first set in 325 A.D., the paper revealed. An explanation of the meaning of the various days preceding Easter was also given, along with a description of their early celebration. Palm Sunday has been observed since the 10th century, Mrs. Thomas said.

The impressive sunrise services held in the Garden of the Gods at Colorado Springs, Colo., in Riverside, Calif., at Forest Park, St. Louis, in Central Park of New York City and other places are an inspiration to thousands of people.

Mrs. Thomas also described the annual egg rolling event held in Washington, D. C.

She discussed Easter music and brought out the contrast between the original Easter hymns and today's joyful selections.

Refreshments in keeping with the season were served from a decorated tea table, with Mrs. Lois Hardin pouring.

Mrs. W. W. Gillham and Mrs. John Taylor were guests of the hostess.

The next meeting will be held May 3.

"BRAN-ANA" MUFFINS

Quick-easy recipe for combining the moist goodness of bananas with nut-sweet Kellogg's All-Bran. Delicious!

1/4 cup shortening—1 cup mashed, fully-ripe bananas
1/4 cup sugar—1 cup sifted flour
1 egg—2 teaspoons
1 cup Kellogg's All-Bran—1/2 cup baking powder
1/4 cup milk—1/2 teaspoon soda
1/4 cup milk—1/2 teaspoon salt

1. Blend shortening and sugar until creamy; add egg and beat well.
 2. Add All-Bran and milk; let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Stir in bananas.
 3. Sift flour with baking powder, soda and salt; add to first mixture stirring only until combined.
 4. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake in preheated moderately hot oven (400°F.) 25 to 30 minutes.

Yield: 12 muffins—2 1/4" in diameter.

Galesburg Founded In 1836; Home Of Carl Sandburg

Galesburg, Ill., April 14—(AP)—Galesburg lies on the Rainshadow of the Illinois corn belt, with the run off water going east to the Illinois river and west to the father of waters.

Water—or rather lack of it—is a major problem. It is now secured from deep wells. It requires, scientists say, 1,000 years to flow here through pottsdam sandstone, many hundreds of feet below the surface, from the Lake Superior region.

The water head of these wells has dropped to almost as well a level as can be pumped. Plans have been drawn for a huge artificial lake northwest of the city.

It was 113 years ago that George Washington Gale led a band of colonists here from Whitesboro, N. Y., to lay out a city, found a church and start a college.

Named After George Gale The city was named Galesburg for Gale. The church, first of Congregational origin, a few years later divided along Congregational and Presbyterian doctrines. Other denominations began coming in until now there is a meeting house for every 900 persons.

The school first was called Knox Manual Labor. It later turned to liberal arts and shortened its name to Knox College—historic "Old Main" which is widely known throughout the country. Many of its 12,000 alumni and former students are famous.

The city has yet another claim to fame—it is the birthplace of Carl Sandburg, poet and author. His old home here has become a shrine.

Galesburg, first an agricultural community, really began to grow when the Burlington railroad came here almost a century ago. Now Galesburg is on the main line and also is the hub of the road's system. Late in the 1880's, the Santa Fe railroad also came through town.

No Large Factories The first corn planters were made here by George W. Brown. Other industries came later, including a brickyard which at one time was reported to make the largest paving bricks in the world. Streets here are paved with brick, as are several roads leading from town.

Other factories also came, but none is large. One reason is the lack of soft water.

Rich in black soil and producing farms, with a large population of railroad workers, Galesburg has never enjoyed industrial booms and also has not suffered too heavily in times of depression. It has managed to live more than a century on a more or less even keel.

In 1921, the late Edward Bok published in "The American Legion Weekly" that he had picked Galesburg as "the Ideal American city most desirable in which to live in this great nation: ideal in its opportunities for real living for men, women and children."

Easter brings a thousand suggestions. A permanent brings but the one ENCORE.

MOTOR FUEL

Now Produced by Catalytic Cracking

There's the secret of higher anti-knock in the New D-X Lubricating Motor Fuel. Now D-X is produced by the famous catalytic cracking process—miracle of modern gasoline chemistry. The result is a motor fuel that takes hills in its stride . . . without knocking. Your new car needs the New D-X. And it's a great tonic for older models.

STILL WITH THE "EXTRA"
OF U. C. L.

Upper-Cylinder Lubrication is still an important "extra" in the New D-X. But now the valuable protective upper-cylinder lubricant is scientifically blended with a higher anti-knock, high octane gasoline to produce an even better D-X Lubricating Motor Fuel.

Try a tankful today. See for yourself what a difference the New D-X or D-X Ethyl with its higher anti-knock can make in your driving.

Why Farmers Hold Key To Prosperity

By Sigrid Arne
AP Newfeatures Writer
Washington—Top men from labor, business and agriculture have just sat around the Washington conference room of the National Planning Association (NPA) to try to write "detour" on the roads they see which may take us downhill to a depression. NPA is a private non-profit research group.

They include such top men as Beardsley Ruml, of R. H. Macy in New York; James B. Carey of CIO; Luther Gulick of the Institute of Public Administration; Robert Black of the White Motor Co.; Marion H. Hedges, labor adviser to Economic Cooperation Administration; and James G. Patton, of the National Farmers' Union.

They tackled the detours from the farmers' viewpoint. They thought him a key figure in our economy, and here's why:

The farmer can't shut down his acres when prices drop so quickly as the factory owner shuts down his machines. The farmer's costs go on, but the price he gets drops. The very fact that he turns out his normal amount of food further aggravates dropping prices in times of depression.
The NPA meeting dug up figures that between 1930 and 1940 farm production shifted from a low of 90 per cent of the 1935-39 average to a high of 106 per cent, a difference of only 16 points. But in the same years steel jumped from a low of 32 per cent for the same base period to a high of 147 per cent, a difference of 115 points. This, they thought, showed that the steel manufacturer is in a much better position to shrink his production costs when his profits are shrinking.

The NPA meeting was interested in what happens to farm income in depressions, because when farmers lose buying power many more than the farmers suffer. City folks suddenly lose part of a tremendous home market—the 20,000,000 or so people who live on incomes made from the soil.

So the talk exploded into a much bigger field than just farm income, into the search for a method to keep all incomes high, all people in enough money to eat for good health. The conferees worked out a many-sided program to achieve this objective. They felt:

1. City folks should be paid well enough to buy the food they need. Wages of the lowest-paid city workers should get special attention. The social security system ought to be broadened. Trade unions should be strong and should work toward general national economic health.

2. Farmers should be paid prices well enough balanced against city prices to permit them to keep on buying what they need.

3. We should buy abroad as a nation to permit foreigners to keep on buying what they need here—this particularly interests farmers who raise wheat, cotton and tobacco.

4. Should another depression come along, the government should pay for school lunch programs and food stamp plans so that the people who might have to go hungry could keep on buying from the farmers who might otherwise be unable to sell their food.

5. Government help to farmers should be given in such a way that they keep on improving their land so that Americans will eat well not only this decade but in the decades to come.

6. The NPA-ers pointed out that

American farmers will certainly lose some of their foreign markets as the war-wrecked countries begin to produce more normal crops. These American farmers should be given some sort of government cushion, the NPA conference felt, to help them either shift to other crops which they can sell or to move to city jobs. In any case, the worry was less for the troubles of the individual farmer than it was for the effect he might have on prices if he kept on raising food no one would buy.

7. The conferees emphasized that all government help should be managed in such a way as to discourage farmers from continued production of surplus crops.

8. Someway, the conferees said, both farmers and food processors must be helped to adopt the mass-production thinking of the big manufacturers—the drive to cut prices on each unit in order to sell more of them.

9. They thought some cut in the cost of food could be achieved through a study of the way in which food is distributed.

The British took the island of Cyprus from Turkey in 1878 as part of a plan for the introduction of reforms in Asia Minor.

Ashland To Have Youth Center In Old Town Hall

Ashland—At a meeting of the Youth Center Advisory board and the Youth Council, it was decided to use the old town hall as a youth center.

The hall has been made accessible for recreational purposes for a term of one year. If the group is operating on a successful basis at the end of that period, the building may be obtained for another year.

Floyd Herron, president of the Youth Council, reported that Dew Drop Inn has been selected as a name for the center. The young people will decorate the building themselves.

Committees appointed by the advisory board president, Mrs. E. L. Beardsley, are: finance, Mrs. Lester Edwards and Mrs. Jack Garner; building superintendents, Kenneth Blankenship, Mrs. Seth Minter, Lynn Fields and Charles Aggett; publicity, Mrs. Raymond Allen; and booster, Mrs. Harold Farmer and Floyd Nordseik.

Glee Club, Chorus Gives ISB Annual Easter Program

The annual Easter program was presented Wednesday at the Illinois School for the Blind. Mrs. Armeada Zell, director of the chorus and glee club, was in charge.

The Girls' Glee club first sang three numbers, with Dolores Harris the soloist.

The mixed chorus sang an Easter Cantata, Darkness and Dawn by Peace. The soloists were Joan Weathers, Barbara Middleworth and Eugene Gaines. The chorus concluded the program with Davidica's "Christ the Lord Is Risen Today."

Aging Professor Proves He's Good Scout

Oslo—(AP)—Do you think an old professor has to be feeble and absent-minded? If so, the chief of the Royal Norwegian Society of Sciences, 67-year-old Professor Ragnvald Iversen is an exception.

The other day the Norwegian Chief Scout, Rev. B. L. D. Brekke, placed a shoestring with two wooden beads around the professor's neck. And it was not just two wooden beads around the professor's neck. The old scholar was awarded the "Woodbadge," the evidence of his having successfully completed the training course.

To get that much-coveted shoestring with the two beads, said to be beads from the necklace of an African tribal chief, Professor Iversen not only had to prove that he had the theoretical background necessary, but he also had to display the same skill in various crafts of Scouting as he would himself demand from his Boy Scouts.

Using just one match, he had to show that he could make a blazing fire, even if it was raining and the fuel was dripping wet. On that fire the professor had to prepare a delicious dinner of fish, caught by himself, and using no frying pan or other cooking utensils.

To top it all, the Doctor of Philosophy participated in an obstacle race, without dodging a single obstacle. During the race he had to cross a violent mountain stream by means of a pair of stilts, made by himself.

India Reports On U. S. Silver

New Delhi—(AP)—India obtained from the United States during the war 226,000,000 ounces of silver on Lend-Lease arrangements.

Finance Minister Dr. John Mathai told questioners in the legislative assembly the silver was imported on the understanding it would be returned once for once in kind within five year of the date the U. S. President declared the end of war emergency.

He added the question of repayment would be considered "at the proper time." Replying to supplementary questions, Mathai said part of this silver was utilized for coinage, part was sold in market and the rest remained with the government.

Americans Like "Zone" Jobs

Franklin—(P)—Why would an American want to work for U. S. Military Government in Germany? Good jobs, the travel bug, adventure and just plain escapism lured the majority of the 2,500 OMGUS civilian workers scattered throughout the American zone of occupation.

Some quit because they couldn't stand life in the rubble, others got homesick for the corner drugstore, but most stay on and want to renew their contracts.

Most of the Americans earn between $4,479 and $5,232 a year. You used to have to pay rent, but since Jan. 1st quarters are free. There are 90 top jobs paying $10,330 a year. The lowest pay is $1,939 for messengers, days of the week.

Stenographers earn $2,600. Nearly all the employees said in their application interviews that they wanted a chance to see Europe. Frankfurt, heart of the zone, is only eight hours from Paris and five from Switzerland. The Low Countries are also within easy driving distance. You can "do" Italy and Scandinavia in longer leaves.

The term "midshipman" was first applied to boys who carried orders between officers in the after castle and sailors in the fore-castle and hence were often amidships. It is now applied to U. S. Naval Academy students.

Tuesday is the day for issuing patents in the U. S. patent office. Patents are not issued on the other days of the week.

Dropping Hands To End Of Bat Crashed Headlines For Musial; Intends To Swing Straight Away

By Harry Grayson
NEA Sports Editor

St. Petersburg, Fla. — (NEA) — Someone called Stanley Frank Musial's attention to the fact that he was a long time attracting attention, which in a sense is true.

No one called Stan the Man the greatest player of the game until last season, when the brightest of the Cardinals led the National League in everything but home runs, and narrowly missed making it a clean sweep.

"Oh I have plenty of time," smiled the personable Musial, who was a real American boy when he broke into the majors in 1941—a stickout at 20. The matchless Red Bird, who plays the outfield least suited to a teammate, and first base, is only 28 now.

Generally speaking, Musial did not crash the headlines until 1948, despite the fact that twice previously he was the elder circuit's most valuable player and batting champion, showing the way in hits, doubles, triples and runs scored.

Parallels Boudreau's Case
Musial's unusual case parallels that of Lou Boudreau, Cleveland's incomparable shortstop whom a lot of people did not discover until the Indians popped down in front last fall, although the Illinois alumnus has been a standout for eight campaigns.

"The difference in my newspaper clippings," said That Man Musial. "That's a lead-pipe cinch. It's the difference in my home run output. The 39 I got was 20 more than I ever hit before in the National League, and its the distance hitter who gets the raves."

What brought about the change? "I hit upon it by accident," explained the biggest thing in St. Louis. "In an exhibition game last spring I gripped the bat at the very end, and immediately started pulling the ball with more power than I ever had."

"I used to grip the bat like this," and the Donora Dandy illustrated by fastening his fine pair of hands, about three inches from the end. It is another illustration of a little thing meaning so much in baseball.

Stands Away From Plate

Like a left-handed hitting Rogers Hornsby, Musial stands as far back and away from the plate as he can and remain in the batter's box, crouched, thoroughly relaxed, bat cocked menacingly and held perfectly still, and looking over his right shoulder like a thief taking a quick peek at a pursuing policeman. He is one of the more individualistic hitters.

"Standing 'way back in the box makes the pitcher throw the ball a few more inches," explained Musial. "Why give him any of the best of it? Standing away from the plate enables you to step into the pitch instead of pulling away from one."

"I believe the secret of my hitting to be letting the pitch expend itself, letting the ball do everything it is supposed to do before contact. Fast Ball Hardest To Hit

"They tell me I crouch more than I did when I joined the Cardinals eight years ago this coming autumn, and I would say that's good, too. It stands to reason that the closer the eyes are to the ball, the better you are likely to see it."

"And don't let anybody tell you the curve is the toughest to hit. Let it break and belt it. The fast ball that does something is the roughest dose for any hitter."

"Would Musial continue to pull for the friendlier right field stands? "I never have," he replied. "I do not aspire to be a Babe Ruth, wasn't built or cut out to be. I'll continue to hit straight away, hit the ball where it is pitched, and let the hits fall where they spray. That keeps the defense honest, which is the main idea."

"There'll be no shifts designed to stop Musial."

"Not unless it is a police shift putting handcuffs on him," cut in Slaty Marion.

THACKERY GARDEN TO BE FACTORY YARD

London — (P) — The garden in the Kensington Square district to London in which William Makepeace Thackeray strolled while putting together the plot of "Vanity Fair" will become a factory yard shortly.

Thackeray fans protested, but they have been overruled by the ministry of town and county planning. It held that a luggage manufacturing firm must be allowed to build a loading platform in the old garden to relieve traffic.

Thackeray used the garden from 1846 to 1854, when living in Young Street, and there he wrote "Vanity Fair," "Pendennis" and "Esmond." Among those who protested against the change was the novelist's great-granddaughter Mrs. E. Norman-Butler.

Handicapper Won't Cater, So Calumet Avoids New York's Weighty Problems

By Harry Grayson
NEA Sports Editor
New York—(NEA) Outside of Calumet, there isn't much to the handicapping division at the moment.

When—and if—Citation's popped osselet fully heals, present indications are that all Calumet Farm will have to do to collect all the richer purses for older horses is gallop its stickouts around the tracks.

Working one colt on each front, Warren Wright could bank more money than he did in his most fabulous year.

Yet New York racing men will be surprised if they see a lot of either Coaltown or Citation, save in weight-for-age events, where the poundage is arbitrarily set by the horse's age.

Plain Ben Jones just plain doesn't like the way Racing Secretary John B. Campbell of the New York tracks insists on bringing handicap horses together, you see, and the great trainer no longer has to shop for light weight on his horses.

All Jones has to do is take them to Chicago, which he has been doing to such an extent that Arlington Park is now known in the trade as Calumet Park, because the Jones boys—Ben and Jimmy—write their own ticket and take out annually something like $200,000 in purses.

A new rule at Washington and Arlington Parks prohibits the new handicapper, Frank E. Kilroe, from assigning more than 130 pounds or less than 110 to a horse.

That makes a joke out of handicaps, especially when there are standouts like Coaltown and Citation.

It further gives Owen Wright and the Jones boys the right to be handed all the more important stakes, a privilege they have accepted as their own since the devil's red of the baking powder fortune first came into prominence.

"There is not enough spread between 110 and 130 pounds," says Jack Campbell, the only handicapper

Major League Pitchers Have Caught Up With The Hitters

By Frank Eck
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor
New York—(AP) The pitchers are starting to curve 'em, mom, so I'll be home this week-end." This used to be the favorite line for rookies when they failed to make the grade in spring training.

But today the rookie hitter can hold his head up. Even the veterans are having trouble. The pitchers have caught up with the hitters in both leagues.

A look at the record books shows as much. In 1938 the American League had 3 players hitting above .300. Last season the league had only 16 batters in the select class. In 1947 the circuit had an even dozen with reputable averages.

In 1939 the National League boasted 20 players with lifetime averages of .300 or better. This year there are only seven lifetime .300 hitters active in the senior circuit. After Stan Musial's .348 and John Mize's .324 they are in order Tommy Holmes, Enos Slaughter, Dixie Walker, Pete Reiser and Harry Walker.

Also in '39 the league had 18 hitters .300 or better. Last season the National League had only 10 such hitters, including rookies Richie Ashburn with .333 and Alvin Dark with .322.

300 Hitter Is Big Stuff
Ten years ago a .333 average was the guide rule on a good hitter. Today if a man hits .300 he's a big stick man in the majors.

In 1938 when the Yankees had the top pitching staff in the American League, Lefty Grove of the Boston Red Sox had the best earned run average in the league. It was 3.07 per game. Red Ruffing and Lefty Gomez of the Yanks followed with 3.32 and 3.35, respectively.

Last season, ten years later, a rookie, Gene Bearden of Cleveland, topped the league's hurlers with a 2.45 mark. His teammate, Bob Lemon, was next with 2.82 and Detroit's southpaw ace, Hal Newhouse, had 3.01. Even ancient Satchel Paige in 73 innings had an ERA of 2.47, topping those who pitched less than ten complete games.

Ethiopia Plans Junior College

Addis Ababa, Ethiopia—(AP)—Ethiopia's first and largest high school will become the country's first junior college next fall.

Under present government plans, 24 selected members of this year's graduating class will form the junior college's first freshman class.

The school was opened in 1943 as the Emperor Haile Selassie I high school and now has an enrollment of 265 students. They come from throughout Ethiopia and Asmara in Eritrea. Board and room and tuition are free for the lucky boys who are selected. With the exception of a few girl day students the school is not co-educational. Girls now attending are studying a special pre-medical course to fit them as physicians' and surgeons' assistants.

The U. S. frigate "Constitution" once carried a statue of Andrew Jackson as a figurehead.

Ounce of Prevention...

Cowboys of just a few years ago would have been puzzled by the above illustration. But livestock producers today see it as a picture of a routine job... vaccination of a calf to help keep him healthy.

Livestock producers and meat packers have a common goal: to supply America with all the wholesome, nutritious meat this nation of ours needs. And so at every step of the way—from range, farm and feed lot to the tables of consumers—precautions are taken to produce meat of the best possible quality... meat that will receive the familiar round purple stamp "U. S. Inspected & Passed." This purple circle, found on every important cut supplied by federally inspected packers, is the housewife's guarantee of good, wholesome meat.

Growing animals are subject to various ailments. Meat, milk, wool and other valuable by-products... enough to supply a good-sized nation... are lost on farms and ranches each year. Add to this the lost grain and grass fed to animals which never live to maturity, or fed to unthrifty livestock that gain slowly. Total dollar losses run into billions.

Much has been done toward reducing these losses. New drugs and chemicals, such as the sulfas, penicillin and phenothiazine, are conquering livestock ailments, pests and parasites. But some of these causes of reduced production and profit are stubborn. To lick them will take increased knowledge, cooperation among neighbors and a constant watch for danger signs. But the increased earnings which can result from these efforts make them more than worth while. Production of healthy livestock is the only way to keep the markets for the meat you produce supplied and expanding. In solving your problems your local, state and federal veterinarians are good men to turn to for help.

Soda Bill Sez:

It's a good idea to save tough problems for a rainy day.
Dirt farmers and desk farmers both get calluses—but in different places.

OUR CITY COUSIN

Price Balances Supply and Demand

In the first six weeks of the year livestock and meat prices have dropped with great rapidity. In my 24 years with Swift & Company I have never seen so violent a drop. On the other hand, I have never seen prices start down from so high a level. It is the law of supply and demand at work.

When the wholesale prices of meat—the amount meat packers can get for it—go down, it means lower prices for livestock. It always has been and always will be that way. When demand for meat increases, we are able to pay producers more for their livestock. The prices Swift & Company, and the other 26,000 meat packers and commercial slaughterers, pay for livestock are governed by what they can get for the total available supply of meat and the by-products. As in the past, so in the future, livestock prices will result entirely from the balance between supply and demand.

Let's Be For Things Seems to me that most of us spend too much time and blood-pressure being against things. Let's be for things. Let's be for freedom of choice and initiative. Let's be for a system which allows a man to choose freely his own work, to make his own opportunities, to plan his own production. Which lets him decide where and how he lives; how he spends or invests his earnings. Let's be for our country, where a man's the boss of his own time, his own thoughts and his own political and religious beliefs. Let's take a good look at the rest of the world, then reverently thank God, and be for the United States.

Hope you have a prosperous summer, and we'll be looking forward to being with you again. Meanwhile, if you're in Chicago, plan to visit us at Swift & Company. All of us in the Agricultural Research Department cordially invite you to drop in for a chat. We'll be looking for you!

1 can corned beef hash
2 tablespoons shortening
1/2 cup thinly sliced onion
2 tablespoons flour
1 No. 2 can peas (2 1/2 cups)
3/4 teaspoon salt
Yield: 4 Servings
Melt 1 tablespoon shortening in a frying pan and brown onions lightly. Sprinkle flour over onions and combine thoroughly. Drain juice from peas (approximately 1 cup). Add salt and juice from peas to onions and flour. Cook until sauce has thickened. Add 1/2 cup peas, stirring gently. Open can of hash at both ends. Push hash out on a board. Slice in four portions. Brown in 1 tablespoon shortening in a frying pan. Serve Corned Beef Hash Patties with vegetable sauce.

Quotes of the Month

The livestock producer, both by nature and by necessity, is a true conservationist. He would no more deliberately ruin the property on which he depends for his livelihood, and which he hopes to pass on to his children, than the manufacturer would deliberately tear down the plant in which he operates.

A. A. SMITH, President
American National Livestock Assoc.

Livestock provides one-third of all the food energy in the American diet, and 80 per cent of all the land used to produce the nation's food supply is devoted to livestock production. That is the story of a big business, vital to all Americans.

CHARLES A. BURMEISTER,

Economy of Production

By Dean H. J. Reed
Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana

It is the net income that enables farmers to have the things they want for their homes and families.

Prices of farm products are going down. Taxes, transportation costs, labor, materials, and operating costs will remain high. That puts the old squeeze play on net income. The answer, obviously, is reducing production costs to the bone—making every production unit efficient, whether it be an acre of ground, a hog, a cow, or a chicken.

High producing, adapted varieties of crops, adequately fertilized, planted at the right time in well prepared soil, will cut the cost of production.

Most farmers feed their hay and corn to livestock, and the herds and flocks convert this feed into milk, pork, eggs, etc. Therefore, we must be sure that they are efficient. It is your livestock that settles the price you get for your feed and labor. Low producing animals and birds should be disposed of now, and they should be replaced with high producers.

Can the proper use of electricity, machinery, and power cut your labor costs? Study causes of livestock mortality and correct any bad conditions. Sanitation pays. Analyze your production figures and costs; they will reveal your weak and strong spots. Keep overhead cost down.

Every farmer can improve his operations, and it will pay from here on out.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK
MARKET REPORT

Chicago, April 14.—(P)—A fairly active livestock trade today moved hogs to the scales at steady to 25 cents higher prices, cattle at steady to 50 cents lower, and sheep at steady levels.

Barrows and gilts grading good and choice ranged from $17 to $19.75, the day's top price. Sows took $13.75 to $16.50. Clearance was good.

Medium to low-choice steers made $23 to $24 and a part-load testing choice took $26.25. A part-load of similar heifers brought $26 while good heifers were worth $24 to $25.65. Sausage bulls topped at $23.25 and vealers at $30, the practical top.

Good to low-choice fed woolen Colorado lambs brought the $29.25 top mark, while woolen ewes topped at $14.50 and shorn types at $12.50.

Receipts includes 5,000 hogs for sale, 4,000 cattle, 400 calves, and 500 sheep.

New York Stock
Market

New York, April 14.—(P)—Stock traders showed a notable lack of enthusiasm today.

Few prices varied more than small fractions from Wednesday's close. Gains and losses were about a stand-off.

Trading got off to a slow start and stayed that way throughout the session as Wall Street prepared to take the day off tomorrow, Good Friday. The exchange will resume operations Saturday. Business was at the rate of around 800,000 shares for the full day.

Up a good part of the day were General Motors, National Distillers, Consolidated Natural Gas, Pennsylvania R.R., Gulf Oil, and International Paper.

Lower were U. S. Steel, Republic Steel, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Sears Roebuck, Caterpillar Tractor, Schenley, American Telephone, General Electric, Dow Chemical, Central Nickel Plate, and Standard Oil (N.J.).

Railway obligations moved near-

SHORT-COVERING UPS
MAY WHEAT OVER 3c;
DEALINGS ACTIVE

Chicago, April 14.—(P)—A strong short-covering movement sent May wheat up more than 3 cents at times on the Board of Trade today. The price was the best since late January and dealings were active.

Action of the May wheat contract was not reflected to any extent in other commodities. Deferred wheat deliveries were up a bit most of the day, but corn showed some early easiness. Toward the close, the yellow grain moved up for small gains.

Major reason for the May wheat advance was a feeling not much cash wheat will be available for delivery on these contracts at the end of May. Other reasons were overnight flour sales to the United Kingdom, causing some mill buying, and reports the government would soon enter the flour market.

Receipts were: wheat 11 cars, corn 124, oats 58, soybeans 6.

Wheat closed 3-3/8 higher, May $2.23-2.24, corn was 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher, May $1.33-1.32, oats were 1/4 higher, May 70-1, rye was 1 to 1 1/4 higher, May $1.27-1.28, soybeans were 2-1/2 higher, May $2.22-2.24, and lard was 5 to 20 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $11.22.

East St. Louis Livestock

National Stockyards, Ill., April 14.—(P)—(USDA)—Hogs 8,500; barrows and gilts mostly 25 to 30 spots 50 higher than Wednesday's average; later trade slow; sows strong to 25 higher; bulk good and choice 180-240 lbs. $18.75-19.00; top early $19.25 for few loads; 250-300 lbs. largely odd lots $17.75-18.50; 140-170 lbs. $17.25-18.50; 100-130 lb. pigs in light supply; odd lots $14.00-17.00; good sows 400 lbs. down $13.75-17.00; over 400 lbs. $13.75-15.00; stags $11.50-13.50.

Cattle 2,000; calves 900; opening deals fully steady on a few good steers at $24.00-25.00; heifers and mixed yearlings active in firm; high good heifers to $25.25; cows showing strength in active trade; few good cows $19.00-20.00; common and medium beef cows largely $17.50-18.50; canners and cutters $14.00-17.00; medium and good bulls steady at $19.50-20.00; cutter and common bulls $17.00-18.50; vealers unchanged; good and choice $27.00-33.00; common and medium $21.00-26.00.

Sheep 700; market not fully established; undertone weak to lower; deck good and choice 36-lb. clipped lambs No. 2 and 3 pelts $28.00; odd lots wooled lambs $29.00; sizable lot medium spring lambs $28.00.

Mikan, Lakers Beat
Caps, 77-56 For
BAA Crown

Minneapolis, April 14.—(P)—The championship crown of the Basketball Association of America rested on the heads of the Minneapolis Lakers today.

The Lakers earned the honor Wednesday night by blasting Washington's scrappy Capitols, 77-56. Earned is the only word for it, because the six game playoff was a long, hard stretch for the Minneapolis club.

George Mikan, the Lakers' brilliant center, dropped in 29 points last night to boost his 70 game total for the season to 2,001—an average of 28.6 points per game.

Mikan worked the last two playoff games with a fractured wrist, his forearm heavily padded with bandages.

Meet George Mardikian—owner of the world-famous "Omar Khayyam" restaurant. He's the man who fed delegates of 52 Nations at San Francisco's U. N. Conference. He's permanent food consultant to the U. S. Army. What he knows about quality fills a book... the best-selling "Dinner at Omar Khayyam's." No wonder his personal choice in beer is Premium Quality Falstaff.

Experts who know Quality choose
PREMIUM QUALITY FALSTAFF

Flavor to suit an expert's taste!
Flavor that's always just right... not too heavy, not too light! That's the big reason why Falstaff is the choice of men whose jobs demand keen judgment of quality. They know from experience that it takes the finest to produce the finest. And Falstaff is always carefully brewed by experts from choice, costly ingredients. Why, the very yeast controlling Falstaff's famous flavor is so rare, and precious it's insured for $1,000,000. The result? Flavor that stands with the world's finest. And it's yours to enjoy at a popular price. So always make Falstaff your expert choice!

Surveyors Work On U. S. Route 36 Near Florence

Surveyors of the Illinois division of highways have been at work surveying U. S. Route 36 between Florence and Pittsfield, which at present has several sharp curves and a number of steep grades. Highway division employees have stated unofficially that the state plans to improve the route by widening it two feet on each side, and applying blacktop over the concrete. It is reported that plans call for rebuilding of much of the route between the Bay creek bridge and Detroit, where several curves will be straightened out. The picturesque but dangerous Florence hollow route will be a thing of the past if plans for a new highway down the bluff are carried to completion. According to reports of those who have talked with surveyors, the new route would follow down the bluff nearer to the village of Florence than the present highway.

Some sections of U. S. Route 36 between Springfield and Hannibal, Mo., have already been widened and covered with asphalt. Improvement of this kind has already taken place over stretches of several miles east and west of Jacksonville. The highway in the vicinity of Bates in Sangamon county also has been widened and resurfaced.

NO CHANGE

London, April 14—(AP)—A U. S. embassy spokesman termed "encouraging" today a doctor's report that there had been no change in the condition of Ambassador Lewis Douglas's left eye, injured last week in a fishing accident.

A mole, unfed for 12 hours, will starve to death.

Vote In Glasgow Primary Election Is Very Light

Glasgow—A comparatively light vote was polled in the Glasgow precinct Tuesday at the primary election for county commissioner. With the only contest being on the Republican ticket, only 78 votes were cast. J. H. Daniels of Glasgow, Republican, received 40 votes, with his opponent, A. A. Mitchell, South Winchester, gathering 28 votes. Middendorf, unopposed Democratic candidate, received 10 votes.

A meeting to organize a 4-H club in Glasgow will be held at the home of Mrs. Oscar Yates Monday, April 18, at 7 p.m. All girls between the ages of 10 and 21 and all mothers interested are invited to be present.

Mrs. Minnie Yates of Alto visited here Sunday with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Yates and son Vestal.

Mrs. Paul Garrison and sons Paulie and David and her sister, Mrs. Mary Murphy of Winchester, were Tuesday callers on Mr. and Mrs. Estelle Cowper and daughter Sandra Lou.

Missouri Men Hurt In Wreck Near Waverly

Two residents of Springfield, Mo., were injured Wednesday in an automobile and truck collision on State Route 104, four miles east of Waverly.

Robert R. McClancy, 30, suffered lacerations of his lower lip and abrasions on the body. Paul McKinney, 34, sustained lacerations on the scalp.

The driver of the car in which the injured men were riding was driven by E. T. Clough of Springfield, Mo., who was not hurt.

Joseph Mann of Auburn, driver of an oil truck, escaped injury. McClancy and McKinney were taken to St. John's hospital at Springfield for treatment.

Funeral Services For Coons Infant Held Thursday

Funeral services for Charles Lance Coons, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Coons of Roodhouse, were held Thursday at 1 p.m. at the Mackey Funeral Home in Roodhouse, with the Rev. W. W. Williams officiating. Burial was in Fernwood cemetery.

The infant was born at the Boyd Memorial hospital in Carrollton at 4 p.m. Wednesday. His death occurred three hours later.

Surviving are his parents, one sister, Patricia Ann, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Shipley. Mrs. Coons is the former Miss Alice Shipley.

Boy Scouts, "Y" Members Plant Trees At Lake

The planting of 5,000 small pine trees on the south shore of Lake Jacksonville will be done Monday by the Boy Scouts and members of the Y.M.C.A.

The planting of the 3,000 red pine and 2,000 jack pine trees will be under the direction of Allen Kelly, chairman of the park development, and Ted Pierce, conservation supervisor.

Members of the Recreation, Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis and Sportsman's clubs will assist in the supervision.

Paul Hartman, "Y" secretary, announced that members of the "Y" would meet at the Youth Center at 9 a.m. The Boy Scouts will meet at the scout office at 9 a.m., according to announcement made by D. M. McDermott.

This is a reforestation project started last year when the Scouts planted 10,000 trees at Lake Jacksonville.

I. O. O. F. Plans Series Of Three State Meetings

The Independent Order of Odd Fellows of Illinois, under the leadership of J. Milburn Brown of Centralia, grand master, have outlined a series of three state meetings, the first to be held July at the DuQuoin state fairgrounds; the second, July 9 at the Springfield state fairgrounds, and the third, July 16, at Mendota park.

The meetings will begin at 2 p.m. Entertainment will be furnished and a full meal will be served. A degree of the order will be conferred during the evening session.

The meeting at Springfield will cover the territory called the central section, comprising 24 districts.

Final Rites For Harold Upchurch

A number of Morgan county residents were in attendance at funeral services for Harold B. Upchurch at the Cline Funeral Home in Beardstown on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Upchurch was a former resident of the Alexander community, where he farmed for a number of years.

The funeral was conducted by Rev. Kenneth Knudsen of the First Lutheran church.

Two hymns, "In The Garden" and "The Old Rugged Cross" were sung by Wayne Mulkey, accompanied on the organ by William Huffman.

Flowers were arranged by Mrs. Robert Douglass, Mrs. Roy Ward and Mrs. Paul Phelps.

Casket bearers were George Farmer of Alexander, Paul Phelps of Jacksonville, James Caldwell, William W. Rodgers, W. E. Tidwell and L. H. Chambers.

Burial was in the Beardstown city cemetery.

Sunrise Service Easter Morning At Northminster

Easter Services will begin at Northminster Presbyterian church at 6:45 Sunday morning, when the Easter sunrise service, in charge of the young people, will be held.

Members and friends will gather at the early morning hour to witness "Life's Highway" to be presented by Lilly Meece, Margaret Gristy, Velma Vieira, Barbara Menezes, Shirley Smith, Donna Smith, Catherine Fernandes and Joyce Fernandes, with Doris Souza as soloist and Mrs. Melvin Smith at the organ. Wayne Peterson and George Souza will serve as ushers.

The early service will be followed by the traditional Easter breakfast sponsored each year by the Mary and Martha class, assisted by other classes of the Sunday school.

Continuing with the Loyalty Crusade the Sunday school will convene at 9:30, followed by the morning service at 10:45. The choir, under the direction of Mr. Frank Bracewell with Mrs. George Ferreira at the organ will present special Easter music, with Doris Souza as the soloist. Members will be received into the church and infants baptized at this service.

The Youth Fellowship will meet at 5:30 Sunday evening, with Lilly Meece in charge of the song service.

The Easter season will be brought to a close at the evening service at 7:30 where another group of young people of the church present "The Seven Roads That Christ Walked." This will be presented by Ardene DeFrates, Joyce Fernandes, Donald Souza, Shirley Day and Wanda Wild. This will be a quiet and worshipful service presented before a setting of the Cross, surrounded by flowers and the open Bible. Glenn Fernandes and Dale DeFrates will serve as ushers.

Communion Rites End Community Union Services

The evening services of Holy Week were brought to a close with a community communion service in Grace Methodist church at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening.

Dr. Frank Marston presided and Dr. Harris Pankhurst gave the sermon, using for his topic "Sacrifice For Service."

Mrs. F. H. Plouer and Mrs. S. G. Baker sang, with Mrs. G. O. Webster at the organ.

Good Friday afternoon there will be a three-hour service in the First Baptist church, beginning at 12 o'clock noon.

DiMaggio Says Heel And Reporters Asking Condition Bother Him

Baltimore, April 14.—(P)—Joltin' Joe DiMaggio's heel bothers him and so do reporters trying to find out how he's coming along, the New York Yankee slugger said angrily today upon leaving Johns Hopkins hospital.

Obviously miffed after two days in the hospital where he refused to see newsmen, DiMaggio went to a hotel where he will stay while continuing treatments for his ailing right heel.

Except for one brief hospital bulletin yesterday there has been no information available on when DiMaggio is expected to play ball again.

Newspaper reporters and photographers intercepted DiMaggio as he hobbled through the hospital lobby on crutches. Asked if he wanted to see the waiting press, DiMaggio exploded:

"You're damned right I want to tell them something. Don't you think you've gone far enough? You guys are driving me batty. Can't you leave me alone? This affects me mentally, too, you know."

A newsmen interjected that a lot of baseball fans are interested in the highest paid baseball player in history. The star, said a reported $80,000-$100,000 a year, replied:

"Well, I got to think of myself, too. This is tough on me."

Saying all he knew about his condition is that he will take x-ray treatments daily, DiMaggio was driven away to a hotel he declined to name. He said he would only answer questions at a press conference which he didn't feel up to holding.

The slugger arrived at the hospital at 2 a.m. yesterday. He came in a taxi from Washington after a plane trip from Fort Worth, Tex.

Dr. George Bennett, who removed a bone spur from the heel last Nov. 15, is prescribing treatment for the member which DiMaggio has complained about since start of spring practice.

The doctor diagnosed the recurrent trouble as "immature calcium deposits in tissues adjacent to his heelbone." The hospital declined to explain what the medical diagnosis meant except that the deposits aren't the same as a spur.

The bulletin added that the "length of the disability will be determined by the results of the treatment." No one would speculate on how long this would be. Prior to DiMaggio's arrival it was estimated the treatments would last 10 days, too late at least for next Tuesday's opening game.

Will Truman Toss First Horsehide Port Or Starboard

Washington, April 14.—(P)—Suspense...thrills...action! Will it come from the starboard or port side?

The ball, of course—the first ball of the major league baseball season. President Truman, a natural southpaw who writes with his right hand but pitches horseshoes with his left, refused to answer today.

"I'll let you know Monday when I draw back," he good naturedly told Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators.

Griffith's seven-year-old grandson, Clark Griffith, Jr., presented Mr. Truman with his annual good pass to all American league games. The Senators open here Monday against Philadelphia, and Mr. Truman will leave out the first ball. Last year he pleased everybody by firing one from port and another from starboard.

Homer Gives Reds Win Over Yankees

Cincinnati, April 14.—(P)—Ray Mueller's two run homer in the fifth inning gave the Cincinnati Reds a 2-1 victory today over the New York Yankees in an exhibition game before a crowd of 6,291.

Lefty Ken Raffensberger spaced seven hits over nine innings to become the first Reddie pitcher of the year to go the distance. Johnny Lindell's ninth inning homer was the only damaging blow.

New York (AL) .000 000 001—1 7 0 Cincinnati (NL) .000 020 000—2 4 1 Lopat, Page (6) and Berra; Raffensberger and Mueller, H. Howell (7).

Brownies Whip Texarkana 9 To 1

Texarkana, Tex., April 14.—(P)—A five-hit pitching job by Ned Garver and five home runs by his mates gave the St. Louis Browns a 9-1 victory over Texarkana of the Big State league today.

Dick Kokos hit two of the home runs, and Al Zarilla, Jerry Priddy and Ken Wood each belted drives over the wall.

St. Louis (AL) .000 111 165—9 14 2 Texarkana (BSL) .000 100 000—1 5 1 Garver and Lollar; Phipps, Leonard (6), Herr (6) and Matthews.

Brewers Nine Wins 35-1 Exhibition

Paducah, Ky., April 14.—(P)—The Milwaukee Brewers of the American Association racked up a 35-1 baseball—yes, that's right, baseball—victory over the Grand Rapids (Mich.) Jets of the Central league in an exhibition today.

The Brewers collected four homers, two triples, eight doubles, 21 singles, 11 walks and capitalized on seven Jet errors to run up the overwhelming score.

Robin Roberts Rated Number-One Pitcher On Phil's Mound Staff

Clearwater, Fla., March 31.—(P)—Robin Roberts, the 22-year-old ex-collegian with only three and a half months of big league experience, appears to have won the No. 1 rating among the Philadelphia Phillies pitchers.

There is no doubt that Roberts, who only a year and a half ago was a student at Michigan State, has come along remarkably fast. The tall, good-looking right-hander with the crackling fast ball and curve, was signed to a Philly contract in September, 1947. Two months with Wilmington, Del., in the Interstate league, where he won nine and lost one, and—presumably—was with the Phils.

The jump did not faze the strapping youth from Springfield, Ill. He won five of his first seven starts, completing all of them. A run of hard luck which saw him beaten by 1-0, 2-1 and 3-2 scores, caused his record to dip to 7-9 for the season. However, he pitched 10 complete games, and wound up with an 8.38 earned run average.

"Roberts is a very fine pitcher right now," said Philly pitching coach George Earnshaw, "but he will be even greater with another year's experience. With his natural ability and keenness of mind, there is no telling how great he can become."

"The youngster is very intelligent. He is a real student of pitching. He always is learning, always thinking,

Recreation Club Plans Softball Opening In May

Milton Edge, reporting for the softball booking committee of the Jacksonville recreation club, announced, at the regular dinner meeting in the Jay-Cee restaurant last night, that "pay-night" games would get underway Sunday night, May 8, when the local Implement Dealers tangle with the Ash Street Merchants of Springfield.

Ernie Canuta, chairman of the senior softball league, announced that he would call a meeting of loop managers Tuesday, April 18, at 7:30 p.m., to make final plans for opening the league the first week in May. Mr. Canuta stresses that it is important that every team be represented in this meeting at the Journal-Courier office, in order that concluding plans may be drawn up in their entirety.

Other members told club president, Wally Baptist, that everything is ready for the summer opening of both the junior and senior softball programs in Jacksonville.

After the business meeting president Baptist showed the group a complete filming of the 1948 world series baseball play-offs between the Cleveland Indians and Boston Braves.

Mr. and Mrs. Duke Bugg, Mrs. Sverre Bergh of Wilmington, Del., and Mrs. Mildred Crocker and daughter, Bonnie of Topeka, Kan., were Peoria visitors Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cowick and baby daughter of Denver, Colo., and Mrs. Howard Lookman and baby boy of Chicago are visiting at the home of their mother, Mrs. Mildred Cowick.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Ligen were visitors in Quincy Sunday.

Mrs. R. E. Mann and daughters Theodore and Kristin, returned Sunday after a week's visit in Champlain with Mrs. Leola Mann.

Mr. and Mrs. John McCabe of St. Louis and Miss Ann McCabe of Springfield were weekend visitors at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim McCabe.

Cleveland Defeats N. Y. Giants 15-9

Hickory, N.C., April 14.—(P)—The Cleveland Indians won a home run slugfest from the New York Giants here today, 15 to 9, before 6,000 fans.

The Indians collected five homers, three of them in succession in the eighth inning by Jim Hegan, Early Wynn and Bob Kennedy off Dave Koslo.

The three-in-a-row performance matched the Giants' third inning attack against Bobby Feller when Sid Gordon, Johnny Mize and Bobby Thomson hit for the circuit in succession.

Lou Boudreau and Mickey Vernon homered in the fourth inning for Cleveland as the Indians rallied from a 5-0 deficit.

Cleveland clinched the game in the last of the seventh when a pair of singles, two walks and a giant error produced two runs. Wynn, who relieved Feller in the sixth, was the winner.

New York (NL) .104 010 210—9 12 5 Cleveland (AL) .000 403 265—15 17 0 Feller, Wynn (6) and Hegan; Hartung, Koslo (7) and Livingston.

Red Sox Wallop Braves 6 To 2

Boston, April 14.—(P)—Johnny Pesky's one-on homer in the fifth inning clinched the Boston Red Sox 6-2 win over the Braves in their fifth pre-season exhibition clash today before a 6,851 crowd at Braves field.

That triumph, charged against Johnny Sain, the tribal right hand ace, enabled the Red Sox to pull out even terms with the National league champions with two wins, as many losses and yesterday's 1-1 tie at Hartford, Conn.

Sain, who twice set back the Sox last month in Florida, gave them half of their 12 hits and three runs during his five innings' stint.

Ellis Kinder limited the tribesmen to three hits, one a Tommy Holmes' homer, during his six-inning stay on the mound.

Boston (AL) .100 021 020—6 12 0 Boston (NL) .000 010 001—2 3 2 Kinder, Galehouse (7) and Batis; Sain, Potter (6) and Salkeld.

Fred Sanford assures Casey Stengel that he has a grip on the situation. The new manager of the Yankees hopes so. The New York Americans paid the Browns $100,000 for the big right-hander.

Braves Farm Weisenburger As Second Baseman; Sure He'll Team Up With Dark

By HARRY BAYSON

NEA Sports Editor

St. Petersburg, Fla.—(NEA)—

Those football players, who this spring set out to show major league managers that the violent contact game doesn't always leave an athlete unfit for baseball, have done a little better than all right.

Stanford's fleet Lloyd Merriman apparently is a lock in center field for the Reds.

The Red Sox are going along with the Connecticut Man Mountain, Walter Dropo, at first base.

Michigan's versatile Jack Weisenburger played all over the place for Pawtucket of the New England League last summer—at shortstop, second and first base, in center and right field, whichever job required filling.

But it didn't take Billy Southworth long to make up the young man's mind. The manager of the Braves told the Wolverine's spinning fullback to get out there where the second sacker walks his post in a military manner, and stay there.

It was a second baseman that the 22-year-old Weisenburger was ticketed for the Milwaukee club of the Triple A American Association in his first full season of organized baseball.

All-American DP Combine

Billy the Kid Southworth, ever looking ahead, is confident that Weisenburger will return to play alongside of Alvin Dark, and give the Boston Nationals the first real All-American double play combination.

Dark, you see, scooted with a football under his arm for Louisiana State.

In a baseball uniform, Weisenburger, a handsome kid standing six feet one and weighing 160 pounds, looks like anything but the fearless home in Southern California's line for three touchdowns in the Pasadena Rose Bowl, Jan. 1, 1948. In contrast, perhaps, his shoulders appear comparatively narrow without all that football gear.

Added Starter

Jack Kerris, Star Loyola Cager, To Play With Pros

Moline, Ill., April 14.—(P)—Jack Kerris, star center of Loyola University's basketball team of Chicago, has signed a contract to play professional ball next season with the Tri-Cities Blackhawks of the National Basketball League, it was announced today by Leo Ferris, the Hawks' general manager.

The signing of Kerris, 6-foot 6-inch center, is the first acquisition of the top "name" players of this past season by the pros.

Evidence that there would be no peace between the rival Basketball Association of America and the NBL was evidenced in Ferris' announcement that he had outbid the Chicago Stags of the BAA for Kerris' services. Kerris and Ralph Beard of Kentucky were the Stags' prime draft choices.

Ferris did not reveal any salary terms or contract inducement figures.

Hagener 4-H Club Formed Recently At Arenzville

Arenzville.—The organization meeting of the Hagener 4-H club was held recently at the home of Elmer Roegge, Wilbur Botten called order and Joe Moore acted as assistant leader.

William Kinsey was elected president of the new club, Carl Roegge was chosen vice president. Others elected for officers were Glenn Roegge, secretary-treasurer; Clifford Botten, program chairman; Herman Roegge, reporter, and Nelson Tharn-ton, recreation leader.

Several movie slides were shown by Mrs. Audrey Carls, youth leader. Mrs. Carls also spoke on the 4-H summer camp which will be held in Jacksonville.

Entertainment was furnished by Herman and Melvin Roegge and refreshments by Clifford and Ronnie Botten and the Roegges.

Others present were Dean Nord-seik, Marvin Krohe, George Hall Kent Cooper, Charles Ruppel, Wayne Botten and Dean Neundorf.

It is something in the way of evidence that Southworth is by now convinced Sibby Sisti, like Connie Ryan, is little more than a sustaining ballplayer.

A sustaining ballplayer, as Waite Hoyt, the old Yankee right-hander, pointed out some days ago, is one who manages to keep a club going without doing much, if any, harm, but does not spell the difference between a winning and losing campaign.

Southworth likes everything about Weisenburger, including his attitude. "With all the headlines he got in football, you'd suspect he'd hang around with the older players," says the winningest manager ever to come out of Sunbury, O., and a lot of other spots. "But he doesn't. He runs with the other young fellows."

"And he works with Alvin Dark. Look at Dark out there, fooling around shortstop even in batting practice. He'd sleep out there at night if that were possible."

Anywhere nearly as well as did Blackie Dark, the Braves will have a second base combination that will not only stop the other side, but belt it out as well.

And to think that it came from football, where they are supposed to wind up too muscle-bound for baseball.

A few more Darks, Merrimans, Droops and Weisenburgers, and baseball scouts will have to learn the intricacies of the modern T with man-in-motion, and what is left with the old single wing.

Byron Nelson To Come Out Of Retirement To Play In Tourneys

New York, April 14.—(P)—Byron Nelson, one of the greatest of golfers, announced today he will come out of semi-retirement this summer to engage in a number of tournaments, possibly including the open championship.

A relative stranger to the money circuit since 1946, when he withdrew to his 640-acre farm in North Texas, Nelson said he definitely will compete in the Goodall Round-Robin tournament here May 12-14 and in two events in Texas during the summer.

In addition to the Goodall, in which 16 leading players match Texas P.G.A. championship at strokes, Nelson also will play in the Dallas and in the colonial open at Fort Worth.

Since his "retirement" after 14 years of constant money golf, Nelson has played regularly only in the Masters tournament at Augusta and in the Texas P.G.A. He also competed against Britain in the '47 Ryder cup matches and in last winter's Bing Crosby tournament.

Nelson won the National Open in '39 and the National P.G.A. twice in '40 and '45. His money winnings of $52,511 in '45 still is the record. He has put on some poundage since he quit the tournament grind, and he plainly is hankering to try a limited comeback.

Wayne Stoneking Chosen By Scott School Teachers

Winchester.—Wayne Stoneking, a member of the faculty of Winchester Community high school, was elected president of the Scott County Teachers association at their annual meeting held Tuesday night at the Winchester high school.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Margaret MacAdams, vice president; Mrs. Margaret King, treasurer, and Mrs. Hatfield, secretary.

Following the business meeting, a musical program was provided by the organ music of John LaMothe of radio station WTAX in Springfield.

In the primary election held Tuesday for the office of County Commissioner of Scott County, A. E. Mitchell received a total of 299 votes to 74 cast for J. H. Daniels on the Republican ticket.

On the Democratic ticket, the uncontested candidate, Fred Middendorf received 244 votes.

Reserve Clause Opposed By Reds, Rickey Charges

New York, April 14.—(P)—Men who have hauled baseball into the courts struck back sharply today at Branch Rickey's charges that the game's reserve clause is opposed by persons of "avowed Communist tendencies."

The bushy-browed president of the Brooklyn Dodgers made the statement in a talk before the Baltimore Advertising Club yesterday.

The people fighting the reserve clause, Rickey declared, "deeply resent the continuance of our national pastime."

The remarks drew quick fire from Danny Gardella, the former Giant outfielder who has a $300,000 suit against the game pending, and from lawyers representing banned players.

Gardella, now an attendant at Mount Vernon, N. Y. Hospital, said the Rickey statement wasn't worthy of comment and added:

"My lawyer and myself do not intend to hurt the game in any way."

Danny's lawyer, Frederick A. Johnson, said he would match "my own and Danny Gardella's record with that of Rickey any time."

John L. Flynn, representing former St. Louis Cardinal pitchers Max Lanier and Fred Martin in a $250,000 suit, called the Rickey remarks "so ridiculous they are beyond comment."

Fatally Wounded, Spells Name Of Son In Blood

Mt. Clemens, Mich., April 14.—(P)—Mortally wounded by several pocket knife thrusts, elderly Mrs. Mary Graves dipped her finger in her own blood tonight to start spelling out the name of her assailant.

The 73-year-old victim, too weak to speak, laboriously traced the letters J-O—while police and her common-law husband Louis D'Augustino, watched closely. Then she died.

D'Augustino then led the officers to the nearby shack of his son, Joseph, 39. Police said the younger man was burning a bloodstained shirt in the stove when they found him.

Assistant Macomb County Prosecutor John Matthews said Joseph D'Augustino admitted the woman's slaying and was charged with first degree murder. He was taken to the County jail.

Matthews quoted D'Augustino as saying he stabbed Mrs. Graves during a quarrel two hours before she was found dying in her home just east of Mt. Clemens.

Warren Beebe, Oldest Greene Resident, Dies

Big Vote Turnout Seen In Virginia; Two Full Tickets

Carrollton—Greene county's oldest resident, Warren Beebe, died Thursday at 2:45 p.m. at the Boyd Memorial hospital in Carrollton at the age of 101 years. He had been a patient at the hospital since Christmas Day.

Widely known and respected throughout Greene county, Mr. Beebe was a lifelong resident of the Eldred community, having been born there on Jan. 5, 1848, the son of Aurora and Betsy Smead Beebe. Most of his life was spent on a farm near Eldred. For the past few years he had resided in Eldred.

With his brother Frank, now 86 and his only survivor, Mr. Beebe held extensive farming interests in Greene county. He had produced food for four years, unable to do any of the actual farming because he couldn't meet the physical requirements.

In his farming career, Mr. Beebe had used a wide variety of farm equipment, first working with oxen teams, progressing to the latest in modern farm machinery. He at one time had 41 head of work horses.

He could recall the days when he drove his cattle by foot to the market at Alton and how he hauled his grain by wagon and sent it up the river on a steamboat.

He helped build the first railroad in Greene county. He also helped out the first drainage ditch on the Illinois river bottom near Eldred. That ditch is still in use today.

The machine used for cutting the ditch was pulled by 16 horses.

A charter member of the Greene county Farm Bureau, Mr. Beebe was given a lifetime membership when he was 100 years old. He was active in the Cattle Feeders' association and attended meetings whenever he could.

A staunch supporter of the Greene county fair, Mr. Beebe never missed a year without having an exhibit on display.

Many Greene county residents will miss the familiar sight of Mr. Beebe and his brother, Frank, making their regular visits into town in a horse and buggy.

Funeral services have tentatively been set for Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the Mehl Funeral Home in Carrollton, with the Rev. C. C. Benedict of the Presbyterian church officiating. Burial will be in the Eldred cemetery.

The local Boy Scouts are going to sponsor a movie entitled "Fighter Squadron" to be shown at the Joy Theatre on May 4 and 5. The scouts will be selling the tickets and the proceeds will be used for tents for the summer camping season.

The Scout troop will have its annual potluck supper on April 26, with the Scouts in charge of the program following the meal.

The Easter breakfast which is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club and the Laymen's Commission will be held in the basement dining room of the Presbyterian church in Virginia. Tickets are now on sale at most stores in Virginia.

Visitors from the state educational offices are visiting the grade and high schools in Eastern Cass county. Supt. J. Benjamin Walrich and Coach Cecil McVey of the local high school were guests of the Jacksonville Kiwanis club last Thursday.

The next baseball game will be with Arzville on Thursday, April 14. The game will be here on the local ball diamond which has been worked over and should be in good shape for the tilt.

Dorothy Suter was appointed delegate to the state convention of the Amvet auxiliary which will be held in Freeport, June 9-12, at a meeting of the auxiliary held Tuesday night.

During the business session donations were voted to the Cancer Society fund and to the State Hospital Veterans unit. New kitchen equipment was presented to the Amvets for use at the hall.

Plans were discussed for the Easter egg hunt Sunday afternoon. Following the hunt, a potluck supper will be held at the hall for all members and their families.

Refreshments were served and a social hour spent jointly with the Amvets.

Word has been received by friends here of the death of Miss Etta McCarty, 70, sister of the late Rev. Frank McCarty, in McPherson, Kansas, after a long illness. Miss McCarty was formerly a resident of this city, during the time her brother was a Methodist minister here.

For the last nine years she resided with a sister, Mrs. Effie Riddell in McPherson. She leaves three nieces.

Funeral services for Deloris Lee Sollman were held at the Cody & Son Memorial Home Thursday afternoon with the Rev. Clair E. Malcolmson officiating.

Miss Lois Hardin sang. She was accompanied by Mrs. Leola Hutchison.

Those in charge of the flowers were Donna Weidinger, Joan Ode, Donna Brodgen and Leona Baldwin. The casketbearers were Cecil Brodgen, Harry Dobson, Joe Woods and Jack Brodgen.

Burial was in Memorial Lawn cemetery.

Mary Ellen Broge, College Debaters Score At Peoria

Miss Mary Ellen Broge, Illinois College freshman, was awarded an excellent rating in original oratory at the 16th biennial national convention of Pi Kappa Delta, debating fraternity, held at Bradley University at Peoria Monday through Thursday of this week. Nineteen Illinois chapters were represented.

Miss Broge participated in four rounds of oratory. Fifty women orators, from 36 states, took part in the contests.

In the debate division, teams from Illinois College won five out of eight rounds. The subject of the debates this year was "Resolved that the federal government should adopt a policy of equalizing educational opportunities in tax supported schools."

Bob Smith and Don Polzin, supporting the affirmative, won rounds from Colorado A&M, Kalamazoo College, Mich., and Centenary College, La. They lost to Texas Christian University.

On the negative side Fred Wittekind and Dick Mills won decisions over Huron, South Dakota, and Dakota Wesleyan, South Dakota and lost to Central State College, Okla., and McPherson, Kans.

All debaters are sophomores. Lloyd P. Dudley, speech professor at Illinois and coach of the teams accompanied the students.

Funeral services for Deloris Lee Sollman were held at the Cody & Son Memorial Home Thursday afternoon with the Rev. Clair E. Malcolmson officiating.

MORGAN TO CALIFORNIA—1849

The First Indians—'Who Was Afraid, Etc.'

By Cecil Tendick

The fear of an attack by the Indians was the unhappy companion of every wagon train every minute of the day and night. True, there weren't many white men killed by hostile Indians, but the sight of mutilated bodies left along the roadside was paralyzing. It changed gentle men into Indian haters.

Every wagon train had its Indian scare. The Morgan county outfit had theirs on Sunday, June 11.

Mr. Rees wrote: "Sunday, June 11—Cloudy in the morning. All hands late getting up. Got breakfast. Picketed out the mules. Some of the boys went fishing and some shaving and some writing and some washing up their clothes, etc. All in high life.

"About 10 o'clock a party of Indians was discovered on the opposite side of the river at a distance of 2 1/2 or 3 miles. Word was given to bring up mules and prepare for battle. My mules was no more than the rest of my men was. Got two of them and started for the wagons. I mated them fast to the wheels, looked around and two of my comrades had ran down and got the others, but finding the mules could not possibly travel fast enough they turned them loose and came in without them.

Evident Panic Rules When Redskins Appear "By this time the officers were trying to form the men in line and occasionally one would get his gun shot off and reloading again. I for my part had to burst two caps and then pick in powder before I could get mine to fire. I got mine reloaded, buckled on by big cleaver or large knife and started. Loaded my pistol as I went. A line was formed on the bank of the river by the time the Indians had arrived on the opposite.

"Our gallant Major very promptly led us onto the bank and order no gun to be fired until within 50 yards. By this time 7 of them started across with a flag. They came across with Letters of Recommendation from Mr. FitzPatrick, the Indian agent, so the fun was all spoilt.

"They were permitted to come over and trade with our men. We found them to be the Kiowa Tribe. They knocked around our encampment for some two or three hours. Their chief then started them off before him up the river. He then followed them. The evening passed off in talking about what was done and said, who was scared, etc."

It appears that everybody was frightened. When a mule can't keep up with a man, somebody is scared and it isn't the mule.

Government in 1849 evidently functioned on about the same plane of efficiency as it does today. And citizens had the same amount of respect for government property: Good Government Wagons Turned Into Firewood

"Monday, June 12—Started off in the morning at 6 o'clock and drove 5 miles and came to an old mud fort by the name of Hans. Here we found several Indians encamped, also a company of pack mules at this place. We found an immense quantity of government wagons. Some of the boys chopped up good wheels for picket pins, firewood and so forth. We drove 5 miles above and noon 2 1/2 hours. We then drove up the River one mile above the Santa Fe Crossing, a distance of 26 miles. It was after dark when we got to camp. We had no grass for our mules. The men were all mad."

The train enjoyed "warm biscuits, stewed fruit, etc." for the next few days. This in a land of practically no wood. The deserted government wagons provided hot fires for following trains.

The train toiled westward. The trail ran along the north side of the Arkansas river.

Three Cheers Given When Lost Return "Wednesday, June 14—Cold and cloudy all day. Drove about 15 miles and noon 1 1/2 hours. Capt. Kerker and two of the company went out to kill some game. Shot a buffalo. About the time they got ready to take his jacket off they luckily happened to spy about 15 Indians at the distance of 200 yards and not far off was some 20 or 30 more. So they shaped their course toward the train without any meat.

"Drove 10 miles and camped in very good grass. The road has lined all been at the distance of one mile from the river. We have crossed no branch of any kind nor saw any water of any kind except the River. We saw some few Buffalo today. It had the appearance of Rain this evening, but blew round. We had some very good warm corn bread for supper. All hands eat very hardy. The grass is very short on the uplands."

Capt. Kerker and a Mr. Barton hoped for more luck when they went after buffalo the next day. "They went ahead of the train and did not return that night."

A company of 50 men under the command of Capt. Evans and Rogers went in search of them. The lost men circled and found the previous night's camp down river and followed the trail westward.

The searchers returned to find "the lost had come in about two hours by sun in the evening. Three Cheers were given and all retired to bed, etc."

Tomorrow—A Comrade Dies.

SHIVERS COME BACK TO MORGAN COUNTY 'A SHORT SUMMER'

"It was a short summer." This statement was a part of nearly every conversation heard in Jacksonville last night.

After two days of radiant sunshine and balmy breezes, the weatherman came out with a cold, however welcome rain Thursday and then opened the icebox door. The thermometer skidded from a high of 73 to a chilly 47 at 6 p.m. yesterday. The release continued throughout the evening and at midnight the mercury stood at 39 degrees. This was a 41 point drop from Wednesday's high of 80.

Thursday's rain began around 9 a.m. and continued intermittently until nearly 4 p.m. A little more than a half-inch fell in Jacksonville. It was greeted enthusiastically by the farmers of Morgan county, particularly those who had a field full of clover turned up by the plow. Pastures, wheat, oats and new legume seedlings will also be benefited by the moisture.

Frankfort, Ky., April 14—(P)—Joe Kelly, Lancaster, got an odd "bite" while fishing in the Dix river. He had fixed up just the right bait, tied it on a lure, garnished it with pork rind and tossed it into the river.

The "bite" didn't feel like a fish. Slowly Kelly wound in his line. The catch turned out to be the lowers from a set of false teeth.

Century Notes

This newschart shows the differences between U. S. government expenditures and population in 1849 and 1949. During the century, man has learned to travel 25 times as fast as in 1849 and spend tax money 1100 times the rate spent in 1849—or nearly $1400 per second. ### TRI-HY STUDIES TEACHING METHODS

Alpha Tri-Hy met at the Youth Center Tuesday evening. Miss Taylor of the Illinois School for the Blind was the guest speaker. She described the method used to teach blind children to read and write and also gave examples of the Braille system. Preceding the meeting, a potluck supper was served at 5:30 p.m. Easter devotions were led by Betty Walker. A brief business session was held.

MP Pants May Be Less Shiny

London—(P)—The pants of British MPs will be less shiny when the House of Commons is rebuilt. That's the prediction of the Shoe and Leather Industry magazine, commenting on the seats to be installed in the new House. The Commons was destroyed by a bomb during the war, and the House has been meeting in the House of Lords. Saying it had learned tapestry will be used on the new seats instead of the traditional red leather, the magazine added: "Nothing tends more quickly to make the seats of trousers shiny than sitting on leather, especially if the sitter happens to be fidgety." "We are not suggesting," the magazine hastily added, "that the activities of the Members of Parliament have no other results than shiny trouser seats—but for the most of the time the members are sitting."

Polish Minister Asks Faith In Home Science

Warsaw, Poland.—(P)—Hilary Minc, president of the economic committee of the council of ministers, says Polish scientists need more faith in what a Socialist country can do and less in the western world. He told a national conference of industrial chiefs called to get new ideas for economics in production that Polish scientists should stop worshipping the scientific achievements of the western world. Minc hailed what he said were the achievements of Soviet science. He also credited Poles with finding the processes for liquid air; for the discovery of radium, vitamins, and television. Minc said it was regrettable that these Poles gave the world their discoveries through work in foreign countries.

DGG RIDES THE STREET CARS

Hanover, Germany.—(P)—"Lumpi," the dachshund, goes to work and comes home again every day with his master. But one recent evening he was missing. His owner searched in vain, went unhappily home alone. There was "Lumpi" waiting for him. Neighbors said they saw "Lumpi" get on the usual streetcar, charge to the correct car in the city center and get out at the right stop.

MERRITT

Merritt—The Merritt Community club will meet Friday at the church dining hall at 7:30 p.m. for a fish supper arranged by the men. Each family is asked to bring a salad and table service. Coffee will be furnished by the committee in charge. Mr. and Mrs. Muri Funk and son Gary of Elmwood and Mr. and Mrs. William Doak and family of Springfield were visitors Sunday at the home of Mrs. Lois Funk and family. Mrs. John Clark and Bobbie of Arenzville were guests Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Meyer and family. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Korty and daughters attended a program at the Winchester Community high school auditorium Tuesday evening presented by John La Mothe at the electric organ. Mrs. Archie Briggs has been ill the past few days. The Irish Free State was separated from Great Britain in 1922.

Carrollton.—Mrs. Rupert Valentine was re-elected president of the Friendly Bible class of the Baptist church at a meeting of the class held Tuesday evening in the church parlors. Other officers elected were Mrs. Nellie Smith, vice-president; Mrs. L. J. Powell, treasurer; and Mrs. Laura Hartwick and Mrs. C. Retherford.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Daum entertained Monday evening at their home in celebration of the birthday anniversary of their daughter, Miss Darleen Daum. Guests were Mrs. Christ Daum, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Daum and family, Mrs. Alan Grant, Mrs. George Grauel and daughter of this city and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kuhnline and children of Greenfield.

Vienna Orchestra
In Big Demand

Vienna.—(P)—Austria can not supply the demand for its most exportable item—the Vienna Philharmonic orchestra.

Invitations have been received from Switzerland, Egypt, France, Sweden, Denmark, Great Britain, Belgium, Germany, Italy, Monaco, Turkey, Hungary, the United States and a number of countries in South America.

Only a few of them can be accepted because of previous commitments—particularly the Salzburg Music Festival.

The hardest offer of all to turn down came from the tiny principality of Monaco. "The prince of Monaco offered the orchestra a two-weeks' vacation as his guest in return for two Johann Strauss concerts. The only dates suitable conflicted with the Salzburg Festival."

MUSEUM GETS
850-YEAR-OLD CROSIER

Dublin, Eire.—(P)—One of Ireland's greatest religious treasures, an 850-year-old bishop's staff, is to be transferred from an ancient County Waterford castle to the national museum in Dublin.

The staff, known as the Lismore Crosier, was believed lost for two hundred years. It was discovered in 1818 behind some panelling in Lismore Castle, once the Irish home of Lady Cavendish, sister and former dancing partner of Fred Astaire.

It has been presented to the museum by the Marquis of Hartington, son and heir of the Duke of Devonshire, present owner of the Castle.

A smaller staff inside the Lismore crozier is believed to date back to the 7th Century.

The original name of the French city of Le Havre was Le Havre de Grace.

THE CAT'S AGE
BRINGS LETTERS TO EDITOR

London.—(P)—Britain's multitude of animal lovers are busy discussing long life among cats.

Author John Paddy Carstairs started the discussion in the Evening Standard letters' column, by announcing that his cat, William, has died at age 20.

Oldest feline inhabitant of the United Kingdom so far seems to be a 22-year-old owned by R. Stephen of Eastbourne. He is in perfect condition, and his owner thinks he is good for years yet.

Miss May Wetzel, of Belmont, Surrey, reports that her tabby cat which lived to be 21, retained all his faculties till the end.

"My black cat is 17 1/2," said Mrs. S. Slaughter, of Acton, London. "She is the mother of many kittens, and seems younger than ever following two penicillin injections for bronchitis at Christmas."

C. J. Bales, of London, told how his cat, which lived to be 15, "used to lap the beer off the counter until he was dizzy; but if you gave him a saucer of milk, he would tip it over with his paw. He could kill a rat quicker than most dogs."

British Told To Watch Export Step

London.—(P)—British manufacturers are being told they will have to modernize their selling and production methods if their export drive toward recovery is to be successful.

"Exporting in 1949 and subsequent years is not going to be a cakewalk," the president of the Board of Trade, Harold Wilson, recently said. He pointed particularly to competition from the United States and to Europe's reviving output.

He said there were great opportunities for British exports in Canada and the United States provided British manufacturers have regard for changes in consumer demand.

He added exports were about two-thirds greater by weight and nearly five times greater by value than in 1938.

SQUARE
DEALSQUARE
DEALNo Clear-Cut Precedent Was Ever Set On Reserve Clause

Editor's note: This is another in a series of six stories on Danny Gardella and the reserve clause.

BY TED SMITS

New York, April 8—What's all this fuss about baseball's reserve clause?

The curbstome legal expert asks the question and then says solemnly: "A thing like that must have been settled in the courts long ago. That's what courts are for."

But has it? The answer is: "Maybe yes, maybe no."

No clearcut precedent ever has been set on the reserve clause because no case based on it ever has been decided by the U. S. Supreme Court.

The clause means that a baseball player is virtually the private property of the club that first signs him. Baseball says it cannot operate without it.

Danny Gardella, an ex-New York Giant, was banned for five years for playing in the Mexican league in 1946 although he had not been signed by the Giants for that year. Now he wants $300,000 damages for losing out on his means of earning a living. His suit is aimed at the reserve clause.

Baseball Won Both

His attorney, Frederic A. Johnson, ten years ago published an article in the United States Law Review covering the game's famous cases.

Two stand out. Baseball management won both the case against the famous star, Napoleon Lajoie, who left the National League for the American League in 1901, and the damage case brought by the Baltimore club of the Federal League.

But these victories only illustrate the legal fog that surrounds the reserve clause.

The first court opinion on reserving was in 1890. The New York Giants sued to stop John M. Ward who said he was going to play for the Players' League set up by the baseball brotherhood in protest against the reserve clause. The Giants asked for an injunction but Justice O'Brien said no.

The baseball contract with the reserve clause is a one way proposition, said the judge. There is "want of fairness and of mutuality which are fatal to its enforcement in equity."

In the Lajoie case, one of the most important in baseball history, the reserve clause was upheld.

Got $2,400 Yearly

Lajoie was paid $2,400 yearly by the Phillies. The supreme court of Pennsylvania pointed out that the

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen

Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FAS-TEETH, the alkaline, (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

"Be sure and tell him I've only got one cavity—I don't want him poking around and finding six or seven!"

reserve clause was "part of the consideration for the large salary" paid to Lajoie.

The court also said that "mere difference in the rights stipulated for does not destroy the mutuality of remedy."

The next big test came when the Federal League challenged both the American and National league in 1914-15 by signing their stars.

There was a scattering of suits against individuals and in one of them, aimed at Hal Chase, a New York court criticized the lack of "mutuality of remedy" and declared the standard contract reduced a baseball player to a state of "quasi-peonage."

Then in 1922 the Supreme Court of the United States ruled in favor of organized baseball in the damage suit brought by the Baltimore club of the Federal League. Baseball, said the court, was not interstate business, was not a commodity, and did not violate the anti-trust laws.

BOY'S ARROW

KILLS COMPANION

Hamburg, Germany—A German boy aged 14 shot an arrow into the air at Stade, near here. The arrow fell 100 feet away and killed his 11 year old playmate. Police said the boy was exceptionally powerful and made for hunting. The arrow had a steel tip.

The Fiji Islands were voluntarily placed under British sovereignty by their chiefs in 1874.

Plant and Cultivate
SOYBEANS IN 20-INCH ROWSA PROFITABLE SYSTEM
FOR GROWING
SOYBEANS

Here is a practical method of handling soybeans in 18- to 20-inch rows, three rows at a time—made possible by the rear-engine Model G with power-driven seeder and 60-inch tool bar cultivator.

Narrow rows give you these advantages:

1. Easier weed control—beans can be safely cultivated when small. Cultivator exactly matches planter row width.
2. Faster, cleaner and easier harvesting.
3. Bigger yields. (Official tests show 2 to 4 bu. per acre more.)

*On clean fields and light soils, the independent gang cultivator may be used.

The extra bushels from narrow spaced rows will soon pay for the Model G seeder and cultivator used with this system. Stop in and talk it over.

Musical Program Given At Meeting Of Ashland Club

Ashland.—About 130 persons attended the meeting of the Ashland Woman's club held Tuesday afternoon in the library club room. The program for the afternoon was "Say It With Music," sponsored by the music committee. Mrs. Ernest Walbaum served as leader, with Mrs. Leo Reiser as narrator.

Included on the program were three songs, "Say It With Music" by a quartet composed of Ruth Anne Butler, Joan Lewis, Gordon and Wayne Wood; "April Showers" by Jane Orne, Donna Douglas, Susan Edwards, Mary Edith Riley and Sandra Hammack, and "Easter Parade" by the group, with Mrs. E. L. Beadles as leader; solos, "It's Spring" by Ruth Anne Butler, "Jesus, I Love, Is Crucified" by Mrs. Leo Reiser, with Mrs. Beadles as accompanist, and "Bill" by Joan Lewis; three piano solos, "Sonata in C" by Dorothy Ranes, "Voices of Spring" by John Nordseik, and "Mazurka" by Jane Gainer; an accordion solo, "The World Is Waiting For the Sunrise" by Betty Lou Roth; a saxophone solo, "Mother Machree" by Gary Owens, with Ann Savage as accompanist; and a duet, "Waltz of the Flowers" by Ruth Anne Butler and Joan Lewis, with Mary Jane Gilbert, Rosemary Reiser, Virginia Lee Aggert, Shirley Edwards, Joyce Senter, Judy Danenberger, Judy Bloomfield, Jean Elliott, Marybelle Wilkey, Delores Winkelman and Beverly Plattner, dancers.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. L. O. Butler, Mrs. Ernest Duncheon, Mrs. J. J. Collins, Mrs. Myrtle Work, Mrs. H. J. Lohman, Mrs. Seibert Quinley and Mrs. Frank Long.

Rare Earths Now More Common

Washington—(P)—There may be some neodymium in your future—or even some didymium or lanthanum.

These are three of a group of 14 metals—called "rare earths"—which occur in nature in association with various minerals. Hitherto little has been known about them. They are difficult to extract from ores containing them, and their atomic structure makes it difficult to separate one from another.

But Atomic Energy Commission scientists, employing delicate chemical separation methods developed for A-bomb work, have now succeeded in producing "limited amounts of rare earths of a purity and quantity previously unattained." They believe these metals have a bright commercial future "as alloy metals in the manufacture of high-temperature structural materials and other specialized products."

We've been using one of the most common of the rare earths in everyday life for some time. This is cerium. It is used to make a "mischmetal"—from which sparking flints of cigarette lighters, miners' lamps and welding torches are made. Pure cerium also is used for certain types of radio tubes and non-iron alloys.

But the scientists hope that other metals in the rare earth series may find practical use as soon as sufficient quantities are produced. So keep your eye on praseodymium, samarium, gadolinium, ytterbium and yttrium.

Your kids may have to learn to spell them!

POOR FISH GET MARRIED
Hanover, Germany—(P)—In a registrar office wedding here Frau Joia Aal married Herr Hecht. Their witnesses were Herr Zander and Herr Weissfisch. The ceremony was performed by Herr Angler.

What's unusual about that? Here are the English translation of their names—eel, pike, perch, whitebait and fisherman.

ADVERTISE—IT PAYS

One trip to the store—
One quick "bowl-mix"—
Gives me two pounds of Nucoa ready to use!

SAVE TIME—"BOWL-MIX" TWO POUNDS TOGETHER.
(And save money—no extra cost tacked on for a "squeeze bag")

• "It's a waste of money," thousands of women tell us, "to pay two to three cents extra for margarine in a 'squeeze bag.'"

What you really want, of course, is to buy yellow margarine at the modest price it can be made for you, right in the churn—when the law permits! Until then, the makers of Nucoa refuse to add one penny of trick-package cost to this top-quality margarine.

And money isn't the only saving! With Nucoa's easy "bowl-mix" you can save time and bother by coloring two pounds together, make it just the degree of yellow you like; mold it in balls, squares or other shapes to suit your taste.

"And it colors so much more evenly!" women say.

Millions agree! Ask your grocer for Nucoa—America's most popular margarine.

Push the fork firmly into the large end and grasp the shank to turn ham so it rests firmly on the cut surface. Make a straight cut down to the bone. Cut out a wedge-shaped piece.

3.

Starting at the wedge, cut slices of desired thickness down to the bone. Continue slicing toward large end.

4.

Insert the knife at the wedge-shaped cut and, with knife parallel to platter, cut along bone to free the slices.

STEAMSHOVEL BITE BRITISH HISTORY

London—(AP)—London's museum curators and geologists wince painfully every time the big steamshovel digs into the Southwark bank of the Thames and tosses its load into the waiting dump trucks.

Some of London's 17th and 18th Century history is being dumped into the sea by the ton as a foundation is being dug for a new power plant.

"It's very upsetting," said A. H. Oswald, keeper of the Guildhall Museum. He said his experts occasionally have caught glimpses of valuable relics. If the contractors weren't working against time, the fragments could be put together to give the savants more clues as to the old city's past.

Japanese War Loot Returned

Tokyo—(AP)—Occupation headquarters has approved restitution of $39,000,000 worth of property stolen by the Japanese during their wartime conquests. The figure was given by Brig. Gen. Patrick Tansey, civil property custodian.

"Claims have been received for all manner of property which the Japanese seized in occupied areas," he said, "from personal items such as watches and rings to whole industrial plants, passenger and cargo vessels, gold, silver, diamonds, raw materials, automobiles and cultural objects."

Tansey said China, the Netherlands, United Kingdom, France and the Philippines were the principal claimants of recovered loot. Much property claimed has not been found. Raw materials were used during the war, and other stolen goods were destroyed in bombings or ship sinkings. However, Tansey said, much unidentified loot has been found. It is to be sold and the proceeds distributed to the claimant nations.

ROGER THE LODGER

By Elizabeth R. Roberts

THE STORY: Mr. and Mrs. Roberts take in problems as well as lodgers when they attempt to relieve the wartime housing shortage in Great Falls, Mont. Roger, who invites unexpected guests to dinner and smashes the Robert's car, is one lodger. Now Captain Dick Morgan, his wife Betty, and baby have moved into the main apartment in the basement. And they bring the new problem of baby sitters.

XXII

ROB and I were spending a quiet evening in the cool of the garden room reading. We were until he went to the powder room.

Mrs. Joplin, the Morgans' latest baby sitter, puffed up the stairs, peeked coyly in at me through the door he had thoughtlessly left open, and said, "You alone, too, dearie?"

"No, Mr. Roberts will be right back," I told her unsociably.

"I'll just keep you company for a spell," she said and sat down. "Say now, dearie, do you tat?" she asked.

"No."

"Well now, you know, you're missing something. This here's going to be an edge for a handkerchief. Ain't it pretty?" She brought over her work for me to see and feel. I flinched for some unfortunate when those hard kernels of tatting would scratch across her tender nose. "Yes, it's very pretty," I lied, and picked up my book again.

"I could teach you in no time," she said, "to tat good as me. Here," she held out her shuttle and thread, "take this in your hand and I'll show you how it goes."

"No, thank you," I said with some asperity. "I'm reading."

"What's the name of your book?"

I mumbled the title.

"Never heard of it. But, say now, did you ever read Sin's Wages?"

"No."

"It's good. All about a feller that falls in love with a girl who's in love with somebody else and . . ."

Rob interrupted by returning to the room. He took a look at Mrs. Joplin, a questioning look at me, picked up his book and sat down to read it. That's what he thought. Mrs. Joplin asked him what he was reading. Rob pretended he was deaf. She asked again, louder.

Rob jumped up as though he were in a hurry and hustled back to the bathroom.

Mrs. Joplin again took up the thread of her story. ". . . And you know, that girl kept them two fellers dangling until first thing she knew, they was in such sympathy with each other that . . ." She went on page and chapter.

ROB returned to his chair, casting the look that kills at Mrs. Joplin as he passed her.

"I was just telling your wife," she said, "about . . ."

Rob jumped up and ducked back to where he'd been.

Mrs. Joplin said, "Is your husband all right?"

"All right?"

"Sick or anything? I notice he runs to the bathroom mighty often. It was the same with my man."

"Mr. Roberts is not sick."

"That's what we thought about Henry. But you know, dearie, he was dead and buried two months after he was first took with having to run all the time. Has Mr. Roberts seen a doctor?"

"There's nothing the matter with Mr. Roberts."

Rob returned once more, but this time he didn't sit down. He looked at his watch, at Mrs. Joplin, and then at his watch again.

Taking the hint, I said, "Mrs. Joplin, isn't it time for you to get the bottle ready for the baby?"

"Nope," she said, "I got her door open and if she cries I'll hear her. I ain't to feed her 'less she wakes up. Mrs. Morgan's trying to break her of the 10 o'clock feeding."

ROB bolted from the room again and banged the powder room door loud enough to waken the baby—and Henry.

"That man's sick," Mrs. Joplin said firmly. "Just like my Henry, in such a hurry every time. Now, dearie, he's got to see a doctor. Though," she added sadly, "I don't know's it does any good. There ain't nothing they can do for a man when he's as bad off as poor Mister Roberts here." She gazed at the door as unhappily as though Rob had exited from life itself. "Poor feller," she said, "and he ain't such an old man, either."

I struggled to think up some polite way to get rid of her. I didn't want to hurt her feelings, poor old soul, but I didn't want her company, either. She had me tired. It was cool and restful in the garden room with all seven big windows open; I could stay there with the mixture of cool air from out-of-doors and hot air from Mrs. Joplin, or I could go upstairs to my bedroom where the air would all be hot.

While I was weighing the advantages of moving against the disadvantages, Rob returned once again. He stood in the doorway and made signs that he wanted me to ootz Mrs. Joplin out of the room. He had nothing on me; I wanted him to ootz her.

The baby, that dear darling, delightful, de-lovely little character, did for us what we two big gillies hadn't been able to do for ourselves. Mrs. Joplin jumped up at the first cry.

"I'll be right back," she said consolingly, "soon's I get her quiet." That's what she thought.

Rob slammed and locked the door behind her so fast that he almost caught her tail feathers.

Next Betty found Tillie, quiet girl who seemed beyond reproach—until I found her stretched out on my long chair in the garden room reading my book. She said it was awfully good.

"Let me see it," I held out my hand.

Tillie passed the book over. I thanked her as though she wanted me to have it, and carried it upstairs, feeling so mean I might as well have let her keep it. I couldn't enjoy it anyway.

REV. WALTER MARTIN GIVES WSCS PROGRAM

The Rev. Walter Martin conducted a program on Latin America at the April meeting of the Wesley Chapel W.S.C.S. held recently at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Lazrby.

New officers were elected during the afternoon and plans announced for a school for officers to be held at Winchester, May 19.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Laura Rawlings.

Following a social hour refreshments were served. Mrs. Louis Mawson and Mrs. Ida Crocker assisted the hostess.

Murrayville Unit Of Home Bureau Meets Tuesday

Murrayville — Mrs. George Lewis was hostess Tuesday afternoon to the Murrayville Home Bureau unit at her country home south of Murrayville.

Mrs. William Reiser presided and members answered roll call. Mrs. John Carroll was a guest.

Two new members, Mrs. Arthur Wilson and Mrs. Edwin Schuessler, were received.

The major lesson of the afternoon was presented by Mrs. Mildred Seeman, home adviser, on "How to Keep the Soil We Have"; the minor lesson, given by Mrs. Maurice M. Strang, was on "Hardwood Floor Finishes."

Mrs. S. B. Robinson entertained at dinner Sunday in honor of her husband's birthday anniversary. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Robinson of Jacksonville and Mrs. L. O. Goodrich and daughter of White Hall.

Howard E. Gollier, who is recovering from a serious illness at Jefferson Barracks hospital, will be pleased to hear from his friends. His address is Ward 3-E, Room 381.

Mrs. Herschel Howard and Mrs. Mae Cade were guests recently at a tea given by home economic students at the high school in Jacksonville.

Only ten percent of U. S. foreign commerce was carried in American ships at the close of the 16th century.
